Rejected ₹25 cr Pegasus deal, reveals Mamata

TDP rubbishes her claim that Naidu govt bought it, but agrees spyware was hawked

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kolkata /Vijayawada

A day after she dropped the Pegasus bomb on the floor of state Assembly, West Bengal Chief Minister on Thursday shared further details on how the intrusive Israeli spyware that was claimed to be sold only to vetted governments, was actually hawked to various police departments across India.

The West Bengal police was approached at least four to five years ago with an offer to sell Pegasus for just ₹25 crore, she said.

"They (the NSO that developed Pegasus) had approached everybody to sell their ware. They had approached our police too four-five years ago and offered to sell it for ₹25 crore. I had the information, but I said that we did not require it," Mamata said at the state secretariat.

If it was used for the benefit of the country or for security reasons then it was a different matter altogether, but it has been used for political purposes, against judges, officers which is not at all welcomed

Mamata Banerjee

That Pegasus was indeed offered to other states as well was confirmed by Nara Lokesh, Telegu Desam Party general secretary and son of the then Andhra Pradesh chief minister Chandrababu Naidu. "Yes, Pegasus offered to sell its spyware to the AP government as well, but we rejected it," said Nara Lokesh, who was the then minister for information technology in the government.

Nara Lokesh's statement was also a rebuttal of Mamata's allegation on Wednesday that the Chandrababu government had actually bought Pegasus. He said Mamata was "misinformed" if indeed she had actually made the statement, adding that had the Andhra government purchased the spyware, there would be a record of it. "We never purchased any spyware. We never indulged in any illegal phone tapping," Nara Lokesh asserted.

"If there had been any such thing, would the (current) Jagan regime spare us? In the past three years, they have tried every trick to fix us in one thing or the other but failed, because we did nothing wrong," he maintained.

Mamata alleged that the Central government had purchased it for "political" purposes and not for the country's security, adding they used it to snoop on judges and officers. At present, an expert panel set up by the Supreme Court is examining charges of Pegasus misuse by the Centre.

HECTIC PARLEYS IN CONG TO AVERT CRISIS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

After the much-hyped meeting of dissident leaders, known as the Group of 23, or G-23, on Wednesday, hectic parleys began among Congress leaders to ward off an organisational crisis with former party president Rahul Gandhi reaching out to senior leader Bhupinder Singh Hooda. According to sources, the two discussed plans to restructure and strengthen the party, necessitated by the disastrous performance in the recently concluded assembly elections in five states.

Hooda, former chief minister of Haryana, had attended Wednesday's G-23 meeting held at the residence of former Leader of Opposition in the Rajya Sabha, Ghulam Nabi Azad. According to Congress sources, Hooda wants the post of Haryana Pradesh Congress Committee chief.

There is a possibility the charge is eventually given to his son Deepender Singh Hooda, who is a Rajya Sabha MP, under a compromise formula.

After meeting Rahul, Hooda attended yet another meeting of the G-23 at Azad's place.

Congress insiders said the party high command is considering offering organisational posts to Azad and deputy leader of opposition in Rajya Sabha Anand Sharma to thwart a crisis.

Meanwhile, Azad is likely to meet party president Sonia Gandhi on Friday. "Azad has sought time from Sonia Gandhi to convey G-23's views on strengthening the party," said a party leader.

On the other hand, a section of Gandhi loyalists have stepped up their demand for disciplinary action against some G-23 members. Following the comment of Kapil Sibal, one of prominent G-23 leaders, on the Gandhis, Chhattisgarh health minister T S Singh Deo called for his expulsion.

'No action against Kapil Sibal'

Amid calls by Gandhi loyalists for action against Kapil Sibal, who recently said Gandhis should step aside, Hooda told Rahul Gandhi such a step will be unacceptable to the G-23

Mixed response to K'taka bandh call over hijab verdict

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE bandh call given by some Muslim organisations to mark their protest against the Karnataka High Court verdict on the hijab issue evoked mixed response across the state. While in some places, business continued as usual, at other places commercial establishments owned by members of the community were completely shut.

The State Government, meanwhile, has taken serious note of the bandh, terming it as 'contempt of court'. Law Minister J C Madhuswamy told the Assembly on Thursday, "We will take action against them accordingly." He added that those unhappy with the judgment can appeal in the Supreme Court.

In the state capital Bengaluru, there was mixed response. Shops and businesses in areas like Shivajinagar, Commercial Street, Tannery Road, Frazer Town and Kalasipalya remained closed through the day. In many other areas, Muslim traders had kept their establishments open. At the epicentre of the controversy in Udupi, there was good response from the community as most shops were shut. In Dakshina Kannada district, a majority of Muslims shut their business establishments.

In Hubballi, Belagavi and Kalaburagi, there was poor response. However, the communally sensitive Bhatkal town in Uttara Kannada district turned into a fortress with businesses closed. REPORT: P4

PUNEETH 'RAJ' ON FANS, STREETS BECOME DANCE FLOORS

Award ceremony after talks with Puneeth family: CM

BENGALURU: As the state celebrated the birth anniversary of Power Star Puneeth Rajkumar, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the late actor's life, conduct in public and helping nature towards the poor are "exemplary and inspiring." The CM said, "We should remember his huge achievements and good work at such a young age. We would have been celebrating his 47th birthday today if he were alive. His life is an inspiration to us, though we all are in grief after losing him." He also wished success for the Puneet starrer 'James', which hit the screens on Thursday. "The date to present the 'Karnataka Ratna' award to Puneeth posthumously will be decided in consultation with his family members. A committee will be formed to organise the award presentation function in a befitting manner," he said.

Opposition leader Siddaramaiah reiterated that the government should give Puneeth a Padma Shri.

THE celebrations began at the stroke of midnight as March 16 gave way to Puneeth Rajkumar's birthday. His brother Raghavendra Rajkumar, and his sons Vinay Rajkumar, Yuvarajkumar, Sriimurali celebrated with fans, and later, at 6 am on Thursday, the entire Rajkumar family watched 'James' at Veeresh theatre. The theatre saw a floating population of at least 20,000 fans who came only to see the 30 cutouts of Appu put up there.

On the opening day, several theatres across Karnataka kept seats, numbered 17, vacant in all the rows in honour of the late star as March 17 is his birthday.

Mysuru saw a whopping 110-plus shows across the district, setting a new record. Several fans erected a 70-ft cutout of Puneeth Rajkumar in front of DRC Cinemas at BM Habitat Mall and hired a helicopter to shower flower petals on it. Similarly, Puneeth fans got together and installed a statue in a temple-like structure at Paduvarahalli in Mysuru earlier and milk abhishekham was performed.

Interstingly, an entire extended family of 150 members booked an entire hall at PVR Cinemas to watch the movie in Mysuru.

Puneeth's wife Ashwini Revanath paid a visit to her husband's memorial at Kanteerava Studios in Nandini Layout, which witnessed over 30,000 people paying their tributes to their beloved star through the day. Puneeth's eldest brother and 'Hattrick Hero', Shivarajkumar, arrived at Gayathri theatre on 100-Feet Road to watch the film along with Puneeth's fans.

Charity, blood donation drives, installation of statues, fireworks, showering of flowers, distribution of food, rallies was the order of the day across Karnataka. Lakhs of fans, young and old, commemorated the 47th birth anniversary of the Power Star in their own ways.

Fans also organised eye donation camps in honour. Others organised food distribution camps which are expected to continue till the weekend. Meanwhile, hospitals like Fortis used the opportunity to spread awareness on heart conditions and organised free cardiac check-ups for people. The entire Sandalwood fraternity and politicians took to Twitter to express their sentiments on the actor's birthday and on his last movie. The scenes were no less in parts of Chamarajanagar district, Hassan, Hubbali, Kolar as several fans celebrated his birth anniversary, and paid tributes.

Fans have an emotional connect with 'James'. The movie, a first-time collaboration between Puneeth Rajkumar and director Chethan Kumar, is an action entertainer backed by producer Kishore Pathikonda. It is about an Army officer, Santhosh Kumar, played by Puneeth Rajkumar, who decides to quit his job to run a security agency. What is his purpose? What is the intention behind the title 'James'? The answers to these questions make up the second half of the film, which ends up becoming a revenge drama.

Ticket gate hits child at Metro station

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

IN a bizarre incident at Rajarajeshwari Nagar Metro Station, a six-year-old girl was hit on the chest by the automatic fare collection (AFC) gates just as she moved through them. Around 7pm, Ashika was returning from Baiyappanahalli to Rajarajeshwari Nagar with her parents and a family member, who crossed the gate. When Ashika followed her, the flaps closed, hitting her.

She burst out crying, and had to be pacified by her mother and Metro staffers. One of the staffers opened the access gate reserved for staffers and emergency purposes, to let the girl pass.

The attempt by a few commuters to bypass the 3-ft ticket rule for children is cited by Metro officials as a possible reason for the accident. Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) has a rule that a ticket is compulsory for children above the height of 3 feet.

A long queue in front of the AFC gate at the scene of the incident

There are markers highlighting the specific height at ticketing counters at all stations. "There is a possibility that the family did not buy a ticket for the child, who is clearly above 3 feet in height. The kid was made to quickly cross the gate after the adult, but the gates closed," a senior official explained.

Many parents carry their children on their shoulders when crossing the AFC gates, said another official. "The reason for this could be tailgating, where a person rushes along with another through the entry and exit gates to avoid paying for a ticket," said an official.

Jan Shatabdi stops for over 2 hrs due to glitch

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Bengaluru-Hubballi Jan Shatabdi Express with around 2,000 passengers on board suffered an engine breakdown mid-way between Golhalli and Dodbele railway stations in Nelamangala on Thursday around 6.40 am. The diesel loco had to be changed and the train finally departed 2.20 hours later.

"The diesel engine of train no. 12079 developed problems and failed to start despite repeated efforts by the loco-pilot. Two relief vehicles were rushed to the spot and they pulled the train up to Dodbele by 8.20 am. The engine was replaced and the train departed at 8.59 am."

Trains along this route suffered delays. However, Bengaluru Division authorities failed to give any inputs on the trains which were delayed. According to CPROfficer, South Western Railway, Aneesh Hegde, "The locomotive developed a technical glitch near Dodbele. The LP attempted troubleshooting. Since it could not be resolved quickly, he sought another engine which was promptly arranged." The cause of glitch will be probed, he added.

PETER VIDAL

18th March: There's an ongoing Mars alignment today. Traditionally these patterns signify moments of great passion and volatility. If I were going to make a general prediction for today, then it would be to expect emotional conflict. But, I would prefer to offer advice - to prove the prediction wrong by being cool, calm and collected – and never rising to provocation.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
At your most prolific you're capable of moving along at an incredible rate. Now that Mars is having such an impact on your private life, you will probably brook no opposition and accept no compromise. You need to make it clear to others that you can no longer be taken for granted.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Relationships with children may have been rather uncertain over the last couple of days. The truth of the matter may be that you are more sensitive than usual, not that young relatives' behaviour is necessarily worse. On the other hand, professional changes will soon offer you hope for the future.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Today's dominant planetary alignment opens the door to a brave new future. You may now begin to see the sense in family differences or domestic pressures that until now have seemed somewhat pointless. You'll set out to increase your physical fitness - or recover lost health.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
As a matter of principle, you should acknowledge that there is some truth in other people's opinions even if you personally feel that they are completely and utterly wrong. You must concede the possibility that it is you who is profoundly mistaken.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Tie up loose ends and get trivialities out of the way before you make any more bold moves. You might have bright ideas of your own, but you may be wise to sit back and let others call the shots for a while. Otherwise, you could get the flak if plans go awry.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Life may still be a little fraught and unpredictable. If you are sure that all expected dramatic events have now taken place, you may begin to pick up the pieces and wonder where you go from here. For now, you need to keep a level head at home, seeing relations' points of view.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You have been playing the romantic lead for long enough. However, there's no need to come down to earth just yet. Hopefully, you have by now recovered from a recent fright or upset. You'll be keeping your plans to yourself, but there's nothing wrong with that!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Social stars are still strong, but your plans may have been altered by what friends and acquaintances have done or said in the last twenty four hours, or perhaps over the past week. In the present circumstances, you can't go too far wrong if you stick to what you know to be right.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Even though the planets are activating a number of areas of your chart, the emphasis is still solidly on your financial affairs. There doesn't seem any way around the fact that this is a high-spending period. But you must beware of con-merchants offering ridiculous promises.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Unlooked-for benefits will be an added bonus in all group activities. However, you may prefer the intimacy of one-to-one relationships, which is where the real gains will lie. Meanwhile, your charming manner is paying welcome dividends at work.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
It is difficult to know just where you should turn. If you wish, you may put pressing and important matters on hold and spend your way to happiness. This is, without doubt, an extravagant phase, though you can help yourself by getting every guarantee on the market.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
In spite of your doubts, social prospects are bright, so get the chance to relax, unwind and look for a change of scene. Pleasant companionship is all very well, but you may want something more intense. Yet intensity brings its own problems, so you must be prepared for the consequences.

Gap analysis to go into details of maternal deaths

State reports high numbers in South India; Target of under-50 per one lakh births set

CHETANA BELAGERE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA'S health department will carry out a detailed gap analysis survey to find out the exact reason behind maternal deaths in the state, and also to ensure that Maternal Mortality Rate drops below 50 per lakh live births in the next two years.

Rajkumar N, State Deputy Director (Maternal Health) told TNIE that Karnataka wants to ensure there are zero preventable deaths in the state. "The number has declined from 92 per lakh live births in 2015-17, to 83 per lakh live births in 2017-19. We know we are still the highest when compared to other southern states. In the next two years, our goal is to ensure we at least reach below 50, and go below 30 after that," he said.

The UN has set Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) with a target of 70 per 1 lakh live births, to be achieved by 2030. According to him, the health and family welfare department has looked into specific districts and identified those where maternal mortality is high, like Dharwad, Chikkaballapur, Bidar, Hassan, Haveri, Shivamogga, Tumakuru and Chamarajanagar. "The department is also aware of the Covid situation and knows there may be other districts too with high MMR. We are working round the clock to ensure deliveries happen only in institutions and in a safe manner," he explained.

Experts point out the need to look at MMR in much more depth. Sylivia Karpagam, Public Health Doctor, in her blog pointed out that "the government needs to engage with the data and also analyse it, rather than just celebrating ups and downs. She also says that all quantitative data needs to have some qualitative backing as well as checks and balances in terms of understanding how reliable (consistent) or accurate (capturing what it was meant to capture) the data is".

To this, Rajkumar says the effort this time will focus on analysing deaths and an audit will be done to know the reasons behind maternal deaths. "Our biggest challenge has been to make all 147 taluk hospitals functional round the clock for maternity services. We are making efforts to know why the deaths happened, geographic location, whether they belong to any particular community, if healthcare was accessible or if specialists like obstetricians, paediatricians and anesthetists were unavailable, or there was lack of transport to hospital," he said.

Dr Sylvia said it should be mandated that private hospitals should report mortalities as well as cause of death, to ensure the data is accurate and reliable. "The state government should keep aside money for training as well as human resources to independently scrutinise all causes of death among women in the reproductive age," she added.

STAFFING and human resource firm Quess Corp founder Ajit Issac and his wife Sarah Isaac on Thursday committed Rs 105 crore to establish a Centre for Public Health at the Indian Institute of Science (IISc), Bengaluru. This comes a month after Mindtree co-founders' philanthropic commitment for setting up the IISc Medical School.

An MoU was signed with the Issacs for the centre, which will be called the Isaac Centre for Public Health. "We are extremely pleased to announce that Ajit Isaac, Founder and Chairman of Quess Corp, and Sarah Isaac have committed Rs 105 crore to establish a Centre for Public Health at the upcoming IISc Medical School," IISc said.

The centre will commence operations by 2024, and is expected to encourage aspirants to pursue careers in clinical research to develop new treatments and healthcare solutions, driven by a bench-to-bedside philosophy. The new centre will be part of the postgraduate Medical School, soon to be established on campus.

"There is an acute need for India to have a world-class centre for clinical and academic research in public health, to be able to make quicker and more impactful strides in realising the goal of quality healthcare for all. The proposed centre will interface between all departments of the IISc Medical School, and also science and engineering departments of IISc in the context of public health research," said IISc director Govindan Rangarajan.

The Centre will offer dual degree programmes such as MPH-PhD and MPH-MTech (Research). It will also provide funding for research projects in public health, including biosurveillance, digital health and mobile-based diagnostics. The funding will support international fellowships for students, scholarships, visiting chair professorships and endowed chair professorships.

"The centre will create a niche for health data science and analytics through close collaboration with the existing world-class computer science and data science departments at IISc, putting it on par with international counterparts like the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health," he added.

The duo accused Pawan of running gambling centres in Doddabelavangala, Rajanukunte, Nelamangala and Madanayakanahalli and had warned him to stop it. An enraged Pawan hit them leading to a fight. Guns May Be Powerful, But Cannot Win Hearts

GIRISH LINGANNA

Is there a golden rule that a powerful country should win over a weaker country? Since World War II, many powerful countries have lost their military battles against their weaker targets. One classical example is America's misadventures in Afghanistan for two decades. Since 1995, America has failed to achieve a significant victory, except for the Gulf War in 1991. Its guns did not get victory in Korea, Vietnam, and Iraq, besides Afghanistan.

In his book "The American War in Afghanistan – A History," released in 2021, Carter Malkasian, a historian and former adviser to an American military commander who had worked in Afghanistan, sheds light on certain factors which, according to him, have made the US a loser since 1945. The author says the wars have been lost to local militants. The local rebels were not as equipped with arms as the US military, but they were committed, determined, and courageous.

Patricia Sullivan, a political scientist at the University of Georgia, in her research-backed study, said 122 wars and military interventions since World War II in which the US, the Soviet Union, China, the UK, and France fought weaker opponents. The big players lost 39% of the time. The US walked away from 10 of the 34 military interventions. When the guns count, the researcher says, the major states win. But when the end goal is to get the target and make it to the line, failure is bound to happen.

Cut to the present Russia's war against Ukraine that began on February 23, there seems to be no respite at present. Ukraine has no militants or ultras to fight against Russian invaders. Ukraine is a weaker country compared to Russia. Russia's armed forces count 900,000 personnel, compared with Ukraine's 209,000 active troops, according to the International Institute for Strategic Studies, a London think tank. The Ukrainian number does not include recent mobilisations.

Ukraine is an economic failure and a middle-income country with its GDP per capita hovering around $13000, since the mighty fall of the Soviet Union. Experts point out many factors for the economic failure of Ukraine including lack of sound foreign policy, corruption, hyperinflation since decades, wounded microeconomics, missed export opportunities, not working on its strength in manufacturing sector and no cheap Russian gas supply since 2007. If Ukraine was financially strong, it would have had development on the agenda. The country has not made best of being with the European Union in terms of development.

Ukraine's priority, going by the open data available, is strengthening its military power. The country, in 2020, has earmarked 4.1% of gross domestic product as military budget, while Russia's is 4.3%, according the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI) report. While the US is spending 3.7%, India's is 2.9%.

Ukraine is suffering from the fear psychosis of losing more of its land to Russia. The fear has intensified since 2014, following Moscow's silent illegal invasion and annexation of Crimea from Ukraine. Ukraine itself is caught between pro- and anti-Russia separatists. Kyiv has doubled the country's defence budget. So, if one presumes that Ukraine is a weak country from a military strength angle, it is incorrect.

Ukraine has been piling up arms and ammunition, including shoulder-held missiles, thanks to supplies from the West. The West, in particular the European Union, is concerned because its 15 member countries, from Armenia to Uzbekistan, that rose from the ashes of the erstwhile Soviet Union, could be slowly targeted by Putin. Several countries across the globe are sending military aid to Kyiv.

At one go, the US allocated $350 million for Ukraine's defence. The EU has created history by financing $502 million for the purchase of arms to help Ukraine. The UK has supplied light anti-armour defensive weapons systems, while France announced despatch of military equipment besides fuel. All these and more supplies are moving at a breakneck speed in violation of the law of neutrality by NATO and other world peace-keeping agencies.

It is reported that the morale of Ukrainians and those who are supporting them is very high. But the death toll is going up. Foreign fighters, it is said, are trickling in large numbers to join forces with Ukrainians on the ground and fight for their country. While Ukrainian refugees by the thousands are being sent to Poland, new members from outside are joining the "Ukranian resistance force'. How can untrained civilians carry guns and enter the war zone is a big question which has not been answered properly.

To lose or win, there may not be a single factor. Defence pundits say Putin has erred since the beginning of the invasion. He underestimated the strength of Ukraine. There are others who have analysed that Putin is not conquering Ukraine's cities but gradually surrendering them to achieve a political victory. He is going slow to minimise civilian casualties.

Recently, the Russian defence representative announced that the war may continue till May. Pushed to the wall by the West, he and his troops would finally target supplies of Western weapons piled up in Ukraine. He is of the strong view that the US has orchestrated the pumping of weapons to finish Russia geopolitically.

Guns alone won't guarantee success for any country. At this juncture, the crucial decisions to be taken by the West also decide the fate of Ukraine and Russia.

HIJAB ROW

Re-exam only for those who missed it before interim order

Law Minister says calling a bandh protesting the High Court's verdict is 'contempt of court'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE State Government has decided to allow those girl students who missed their exams amidst the hijab row to appear for re-examination, albeit with some conditions. Law Minister JC Madhuswamy said the government will be allowing only those students who missed their exams before the Karnataka High Court's interim order on February 10, and they will only be allowed to write the exam without the hijab.

During the zero hour on Thursday, Udupi MLA Raghupathy Bhat raised the issue on a bandh called by various organisations against the High Court's order in the hijab case, and appealed to the House to permit students who missed their exams to re-appear, as they were not allowed entry into institutions with the hijab on. "Some girls who did not take exams that time are now ready to enter classes without hijab. Special exams should be made available to them," Bhat urged.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, along with ministers Kota Shrinivas Poojary, J C Madhuswamy, Govind Karjol and Araga Jnanendra, in the Council on Thursday.

Replying to Bhat, Madhuswamy said there is a Constitutional obligation on the State Government, after the High Court has given its verdict. "Neither the government nor citizens can overrule the court's decision. We only have the right to appeal to the apex court if we are unhappy with the judgment. In this case, the Karnataka Government is bound to implement the High Court's order until any further orders come from higher courts. Children who did not attend exams due to ignorance or innocence will be allowed to take exams. But only those who missed their exams before the interim order will be allowed," he reiterated.

Madhuswamy also informed that the State Government has taken the bandh called against the High Court's order on hijab seriously. He added that if some people are unhappy with the judgment, they have the right to appeal in the Supreme Court, calling the bandh as 'Contempt of Court'. "We will take action against them accordingly," he said. Reacting to this, Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah said that everyone must follow the court order. "But if some people are unhappy with the judgment, they have the right to protest peacefully," he added.

PU, degree students skip exams in DK

ENS @ Mangaluru

SEVERAL Muslim girls in Mangaluru and other parts of Dakshina Kannada district did not turn up for the pre-university preparatory exam and undergraduate internal exam that began on Thursday, apparently in protest against the High Court verdict in the hijab case.

At P Dayananda Pai - P Satisha Pai Government Degree College on Car Street, Mangaluru, six out of eight Muslim girl students of first-year degree did not turn up for their internal exam, according to college principal Rajashekar Hebbar.

The college was shut on March 5 after some students objected to girls wearing hijab. It was only opened on Thursday in view of the practical exams. The principal said that some students had requested that they be allowed to use a veil to cover their head, but he declined.

Several shops owned by members of the Muslim community were shut in Bengaluru on Thursday | VINOD KUMAR T

He said that notices will be put up at the entrance of the college informing students about the High Court verdict - 'not to wear hijab while entering the campus'.

Meanwhile, the principal said some students who were upset over the hijab ban have sought Transfer Certificate (TC) to join colleges where hijab is allowed.

"I did not take it seriously, because they will not get admission in other colleges at this point of time. They are not aware of the rules," he said.

Sources said requests for TC were also made by students of government colleges in Kavoor, Uppinangady, and some other colleges in the district that had witnessed protests over hijab.

However, DDPU Jayanna CD said he was not aware of any such developments or students skipping exam as the preparatory examinations are conducted by respective colleges. However, he said that as per his information, the PU colleges in the district did not face any issues on Thursday.

MOILY: G-23 SHOULD NOT BE INSTITUTIONALISED

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

WHILE the Group of 23 Congress leaders continued holding parleys on Wednesday and Thursday over reforms and leadership issues, several leaders in the state have firmly backed the party leadership.

Former Union Minister M Veerappa Moily, who was earlier part of the G-23, told TNIE, "There cannot be a parallel Congress. Whatever we do, we have to do it within the party forum. They had asked for reform and submitted a memorandum. They should have a discussion with the leadership. We cannot condemn or start targeting the leadership. They should not institutionalise the G-23 and I am not associating with it."

Sharing his thoughts, Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee president D K Shivakumar told TNIE, "Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi should lead from the front. Rahul Gandhi can take over the reigns of the party when the internal elections are held."

Opposition leader Siddaramaiah said, "Those who question the leadership of Sonia Gandhi should not forget the fact that she led the party to victory for two consecutive terms in the Lok Sabha. By opposing her, they are deceiving themselves. We should remember that under her leadership, the Congress was in power in more than 15 states and also at the Centre. Her detractors should not forget this."

'Sonia set an example'

Further, the former chief minister said, "It is unfortunate that some of those who forced Sonia Gandhi back into active politics are now opposing her. When she was grieving her husband's sacrifice for our nation, it was the same people who thought only she can save the Congress. Sonia Gandhi had set an example by sacrificing the position of Prime Minister after leading Congress to victory in 2004. The party may be facing a temporary setback due to communal politics, fake narratives through media & money-driven elections, but the truth shall ultimately win."

Soon, using phones may increase inmates' jail time

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Prisons (Amendment) Bill, 2022, which was tabled in the Assembly on Thursday, looks to extend jail time for inmates who are found using mobile phones or any other instruments of communication within the prison premises. Also, if any inmate fails to surrender after the end of parole, he/she will be made to undergo longer incarceration, after completing time for the older offence.

The State Government, in its proposed Bill, states: "It is considered necessary to amend the Karnataka Prisons Act, 1963, to curb the menace of parole-jumping and introduction or removal of any prohibited articles, into or from the prison and communication with prisons, which is required to create a good atmosphere within and outside its limits on the direction of the Karnataka High Court."

According to the existing Act, prisoners using prohibited articles inside the jail are imposed imprisonment of six months and fine not exceeding Rs 200. The amendment proposes to introduce mobile phones or any instruments of communication under 'prohibited articles'. Also, the prison term will be from three years, which may be extended up to five years, with fine. The punishment awarded under this Act shall also operate on completion of sentences or punishment awarded in any other cases in which an inmate is convicted.

The existing Act mentions that those let out on parole who fail to surrender, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term up to two years or fine, or both. The new Bill proposes to increase the same to three years, which may be extended up to five years. Besides, it proposes punishment to the person who has stood as surety to the prisoner, if the latter fails to surrender.

What does the proposed Bill say?

- If a prisoner is caught using mobile phones, he/she will be awarded additional years of imprisonment
- If a prisoner fails to surrender after the parole period, he/she will be awarded additional years of imprisonment
- Any person who has stood as surety to a prisoner, who fails to surrender after the parole period, will be culpable and sent to jail for six months to a year

Cops keep a tab on hookah bars

ENS @ Bengaluru

HOME Minister Araga Jnanendra said police are keeping a close tab on activities in hookah bars, and clarified that no dance bars are operating in Bengaluru city.

Congress MLC PR Ramesh, during question hour in the council on Thursday, raised the issue of hookah bars and said they are spoiling the younger generations. "Though there is provision to supply only herbal products in hookah bars, many bars supply drugs. Police don't raid hookah bars saying BBMP issues trade licence to them," he said. MLC Saleem Ahmed joined him to say there was a flow of drugs in some hookah bars.

In response, Jnanendra said courts consider hookah bars as smoking zones and have directed police not to harass owners with frequent raids. "However, CCB police raided three bars last month and collected samples of substances mixed in hookahs. They have been sent for forensic tests and if found to be anything other than permitted substances, action will be taken against the owners," Jnanendra said, adding that there are 68 hookah bars in Bengaluru alone.

Ramesh also discussed recreational clubs becoming a hub for betting activities. He said a club in Upparpet is collecting Rs 5 lakh as kitty every day. "Just imagine the amount of betting that happens there. Recreational clubs have become betting dens and many families are suffering due to this," he said.

Navali reservoir DPR will be ready soon, says Karjol

BENGALURU: CM Basavaraj Bommai said he has spoken to his AP counterpart Jagan Mohan Reddy to discuss implementation of the Navali balancing reservoir in Ballari. Congress MLC Allum Veerabhadrappa questioned the government on why it had allocated Rs 1,000 crore for the project, when the Detailed Project Report itself was not ready and also that the matter should be decided between Karnataka, AP and Telangana. Irrigation Minister Govind Karjol said the DPR was in the final stage and the state would get it soon. Bommai intervened to say it is a sensitive matter. "I have spoken to the AP CM. I will speak to the Telangana CM too," he clarified.

MLCs seek suspension of Dharwad senior cops

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

LEGISLATIVE Council members have demanded that the Chief Minister suspend senior police officers of Dharwad for registering an atrocity case against Council Chairman Basavaraj Horatti, without following due procedure.

JDS MLC Bhojegowda said the investigation officer for atrocity cases involves officers of or above the rank of DySPs. "But a sub-inspector has been suspended. The CM should take the matter up seriously and suspend senior officers," he demanded.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the police, prima facie, have not followed the procedures, and he will look into the matter. Meanwhile, BJP MLC N Ravikumar asked the CM to conduct a thorough probe into the corruption charges against a Superintendent of Police, who has been accused of taking bribe from a person who lost money to start a crusher unit. "The government has suspended only two junior officers, but no action is taken against the SP," he alleged.

The CM said the complainant had not named the SP, but had named a police inspector and an ASI in the complaint. "Even the probe by the IGP revealed that there was no SP's role in the case," Ravikumar said, adding that there were several charges of corruption against the said SP along with evidence, and he urged the CM to order a thorough probe against him.

State's finances will be in doldrums: Byregowda

ENS @ Bengaluru

FORMER minister and senior Congree leader Krishna Byregowda on Thursday expressed concern that Karnataka's financial situation would be in the doldrums as the term of Goods and Services Tax (GST) compensation from the Centre will end in June 2022, and no decision has yet been made to extend it, despite an appeal by state governments.

"Even Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai had estimated GST compensation as Rs 5,000 crore in his budget. The state is actually losing over Rs 20,000 crore in GST and Rs 24,000 crore additionally through grant-in-aid and tax benefit from the Centre," he said, during a debate on the budget in the assembly.

Byregowda alleged that the Centre is deliberately not following the advice of the 15th Finance Commission that 41 per cent of revenue generated must be distributed among states, and has retained it at 29 per cent.

BSP slams BJP over exit polls, EVMs

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

THE Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) which faced a rout in Uttar Pradesh, maintained that the party lost the elections because of the forces controlling Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs). Leaders addressing the BSP convention alleged that the BJP has managed to win all elections after 2009 due to this. They charged that exit polls are cooked up in RSS offices and circulated to media houses.

Announcing that the BSP will not bow out even after its worst defeat in UP, State BSP President Krishnamurthy said the party will contest all seats in the Karnataka assembly elections. He said the party will not ally with any other political party, and will teach a lesson to those branding BSP as the B team of BJP.

Krishnamurthy said the 'bahujan' are denied their rights as the BJP and Congress have a similar agenda. While the saffron party is playing the Hindutva card, the Congress is playing vote-bank politics and tapping Dalits, minorities and OBCs. He alleged that the media is playing into the hands of the RSS, and people should understand that Japan, which invented the EVM, uses ballot papers. Only seven countries, including India, use EVMs, Krishnamurthy said.

BSP workers and supporters at a party convention in Mysuru on Thursday

He said such defeats will not force the party to compromise its struggle for socio-economic empowerment of the downtrodden. The BSP fielded 97 Muslims and 13 Brahmins, he added. Karnataka has 28 MPs, including five SCs and two STs, but does not have an MP from the Backward community, he alleged, and hit out at the Congress for denying the chief ministerial post to Mallikarjuna Kharge, G Parameshwara, KH Muniyappa and KH Ranganath. Successive governments, fearing they would face outrage if reservation is scrapped, have started privatising PSUs and other areas to deny jobs to bahujans. BSP General Secretary Purushottam said they have set a target of winning 50 seats in Karnataka, mobilising the backwards and most backward communities.

Secretariat staff want retired judge to head pay revision panel

BENGALURU: Even as Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday announced that a commission would be set up with regard to revision of the State Government employees' salaries on par with their counterparts in the Centre, the Karnataka Secretariat staff have suggested that the panel be set up under the chairmanship of a retired judge. Secratariat staffers were wary of the state government setting up the commission, and including IAS officers in it. "Instead of setting up a commission of bureaucrats, a committee or a commission led by a retired judge is ideal," urged association president Guruswamy P.

Tamil Nadu Highways Minister E V Velu has urged the Union government to shut the following tolls: Vanagram and Surapattu on Chennai bypass, Paranur on Tambaram - Tiruchy NH; Chennasamuthram and Nemili on Chennai - B'luru bypass road. This comes after many complaints on fudging of toll collection.

HC asks Mollywood to set up committee

Panel to look into sexual harassment; order comes after plea filed by women in cinema

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

THE Kerala High Court has observed that the organisations associated with the Malayalam film industry should constitute a joint committee to deal with sexual harassment of women, which would give sufficient confidence to women actors and employees in the film field.

"As far as the film industry is concerned, the production unit is the workplace of an individual film and therefore, each unit will have to constitute an internal complaints committee if they are engaging more than 10 workers. It alone can deal with the harassment against women as contemplated under the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013," the court observed.

Association of Malayalam Movie Actors (AMMA), Film Employees Federation of Kerala, Kerala Film Chamber of Commerce, Kerala Film Producers Association (KFPA) and other organisations should take steps to constitute the committee, the court said.

The HC issued the order on a petition filed by Women in Cinema Collective seeking a directive to AMMA to constitute a grievance redressal mechanism against harassment in terms of the guidelines by the Supreme Court in the Vishakha case and the Sexual Harassment Act, 2013.

The complaints panel is the need of the hour in the wake of the slew of revelations of widespread sexual assault and harassment of women in film industries across the country, argued the petitioners.

AMMA informed that it had already identified four persons to form an internal committee and said their names would be notified in accordance with the law in due course. Since the association volunteered, the court recorded it.

Producers' body welcomed the order. "We had officially communicated to the producers to set up an internal complaint committee. It will consist of a member who is not a part of the crew, senior members from within the crew," Renjith said.

"The producers who submit permission for shooting will have to provide the details of the complaints committee to the KFPA. If they fail to do that, permission will not be given for shooting," he added.

Political parties not legally liable

The Kerala HC observed that political parties are not legally liable to establish internal complaints committee as per the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act 2013 as they do not have an employer-employee relationship with its members and which are not carrying on with any private venture, undertaking in contemplation of a 'workplace'.

Experts sound BA.2.2 alert as Odisha sees new cases

HEMANT KUMAR ROUT @ Bhubaneswar

AMID the global concern over rising Covid cases fuelled by a more mutated version of Omicron sub-type BA.2, Odisha on Thursday saw a marginal surge in new infections with 105 people testing positive in the last 24 hours.

After hovering around 80 for the past five days, the cases rose by 31.25 per cent (pc) in a day with Ganjam district - the epicentre of the pandemic during the first wave in 2020 - contributing 32 cases, the high- est among all districts.

The State had last recorded more than 100 cases (104) on March 10. Since then, the cases had fallen drastically to 68 cases on March 13, the lowest after March 2021. The active cases had also come down to 600.

The new infections were up by 10 times in Ganjam as the number soared to 32 from three a day before.

Cases in Sundargarh also rose from six to 17 during the period. No new case was reported from Ganjam on March 13. Sambalpur, Balasore and Gajapati have also been registering an average of 10 cases a day.

Ukraine varsity to hold online classes

MOHSIN ALI @ Hyderabad

THERE is at last a silver lining to the clouds of despondency hovering over medical students who fled war-ravaged Ukraine.

Zaporizhzhia Medical University of Ukraine is preparing to begin online classes for the students. The rector of the university, who is also the chairman of medical universities in Ukraine, has issued a letter informing that online classes for overseas students will commence on March 21.

As the semester exams are close by, the university has decided on online education even though the country is fighting a fierce war with Russia. The decision of the medical university has been welcomed by the students but the only problem they face is attending clinicals which are mandatory for MBBS students. Clinicals are mandatory for at least four weeks for students.

Though Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao recently announced on the floor of the Assembly that the State government was ready to bear the expenses of students who returned home from Ukraine to continue their studies in medical institutions in Telangana, the immediate need of the students is doing clinicals.

A SECONG TIME?

Will KCR go for early polls? Oppn believes so

VV BALAKRISHNA @ Hyderabad

IN all likelihood, the ruling Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) may opt for early Assembly polls this time too. Though TRS supremo and Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao officially denied the possibility, some top leaders of the pink party indicate that they cannot rule out early Assembly elections. Leaders of the Opposition parties too are predicting the possibility of a snap poll.

According to sources in the TRS, Rao is exploring various options. After victories in Assembly elections in Uttar Pradesh and other States, the BJP leadership is planning to go in for early polls in Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh and Karnataka.

Assembly polls in Gujarat are scheduled to be held in December this year though the incumbent government's term runs till February next year. Himachal Pradesh Assembly elections are due in November, 2023.

Normally, the Assembly elections for Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh will be conducted simultaneously. There is a speculation that the Gujarat Assembly elections may be advanced to July or September, 2022.

If Himachal Pradesh Assembly elections too are advanced and conducted along with Gujarat elections, then the top BJP leadership will be busy campaigning in those States. "If Telangana Assembly elections too are held along with those States, the BJP top leaders may not be able to focus on Telangana as they mainly are more keen in retaining power in those States, especially in Gujarat, represented by Prime Minister Narendra Modi," the TRS sources said.

The TRS sources also pointed out that since the Congress is very weak in the State, advancing the polls may nip in the bud the grand old party's plans to emerge as a force in the State.

The TRS sources are also of the view that the Karnataka BJP leadership too may opt for early Assembly polls. Though, the Karnataka Assembly polls are due in May, 2023, the speculation is that the BJP may go in for early polls in the State. The TRS leaders suspect that in the wake of Hijab row in Karnataka, the BJP may advance the polls.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, accompanied by CM Basavaraj Bommai, arrives to inaugurate the Flight Control System Complex in Bengaluru

Facility will develop avionics for AMCA

SPEAKING at the inauguration, the Defence Minister commended the efforts of both the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) and Larsen & Toubro Ltd (L&T).

"I'm pleased with the development of the facility. My hope is that we can bring down the time required to construct such facilities to 25 days and even 10 days. Hybrid technology is an important milestone for the construction sector and I hope that in the coming days, India will become one of the leading countries in the field of construction technology," he noted.

Further, he said, "Our traditional construction industry is generally considered to be labour-intensive, high risk and low on productivity. But, the way DRDO has constructed the FCS complex using hybrid technology, our infrastructure projects will be completed at low cost and in a time-bound manner in the time to come."

The facility will be at the forefront of the research and development for HAL's Advanced Medium Combat Aircraft (AMCA), a proposed Indian stealth multi-role fighter jet. It will help with developing avionics and FCS for the fighter aircraft.

Singh said, "The provision for simulator training at the complex is one of its most important aspects. The simulators provide an opportunity to learn by making mistakes without the possibility of any kinds of losses."

Tension as SilverLine protest turns violent

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kottayam

PROTESTERS clashed with police several times over the laying of survey stones for the SilverLine project at Madappally near Changanassery in Kottayam, leaving many, including women, injured.

Officials arrived in the area with a huge police force in the morning to lay the survey stones. Protesters formed a human wall around the site to prevent them from entering the area triggering tension. Alleging stone pelting by the protesters, authorities withdrew from the area. However, they returned soon and tried to move ahead with the help of police, which led to heated arguments between the police officers and the agitators.

HC disposes of PIL on govt hiring retd officials

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

DAUNTING YET DOABLE TASKS AHEAD FOR PUNJAB CM

If the newly sworn-in Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann's speech after his oath-taking on Wednesday is to be critically analysed, then it would tick all the right boxes. It was short, bereft of hyperbole, shorn of mudslinging at political opponents and free of undeliverable promises. Mann, in fact, used the platform to underline the huge expectations of the people because of the massive mandate Punjab had given his party. He hit the nail on the head when he said that nothing short of a revolution in government was expected of him to meet the people's aspirations. Punjab faces a number of challenges. Unemployment has been steadily rising, the youth are in the grip of drugs, corruption at high places is the norm, agricultural income continues to decline, public debt keeps rising, and Pakistan eyes the state to stir trouble. Mann will be aware of all this and his first task should be to identify the correct team members in the Cabinet and the right officials who will serve the people rather than the political leadership.

For a number of years, unemployment has been feeding the drug problem among the youth, which in turn is driving youngsters to foreign shores. This will be among Mann's biggest challenges. The other main task will be to shed the Nehruvian economic model for Punjab, which envisaged agriculture as the mainstay. It turned the state into India's food bowl, but is now no longer profitable. The state should look at developing industries. With a wide road and railway network, abundant power supply, international airports and healthy work ethics, there is no reason why it cannot emerge as an industrial powerhouse. This will not only reduce the state's dependence on agriculture, but also create jobs. Mann's advantage is that he has a governance template in Delhi. He can adopt some of the best practices from this, especially in the health and education sectors, and tailor them to suit Punjab. But what he must avoid is the culture of mindless freebies, a favourite of his leader Arvind Kejriwal. Punjab already has a debt of nearly ₹3 lakh crore and more freebies will push the state greater into the red. The task before Mann is massive, but not impossible.

LESSONS FROM B'LURU POTHOLE DEATH

On March 13 night, a 27-year-old man riding on a newly laid road in Bengaluru died after a two-wheeler accident caused by a half-covered manhole, seepage from which had caused a pothole around it that was unnoticeable to motorists. The man died after slipping and losing his balance. The death—apart from it occurring due to the rider not wearing a helmet—would have passed off as just another road fatality that is common in Indian cities, but for the fact that this one was a direct result of a lack of coordination between civic agencies. The road was newly laid out by Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP). But soon after, the Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) took up drain works that required the manhole to be opened and did not close it properly after completion. The resulting seepage had caused the newly laid-out tar to sink, resulting in the pothole that led to the death.

Had road laying been coordinated along with the drain cleaning and repair works, this fatality—like so many others—could have been avoided. Shockingly, this death was the 14th such caused due to potholes or poor condition of roads due to lack of coordination among civic agencies over the past five years in Bengaluru alone. Lately, the BBMP has been blaming the BWSSB and other civic agencies for re-digging newly laid out roads, after it has come under fire from all quarters for accidents and deaths like this one.

In August 2018, the then Karnataka Chief Secretary T M Vijay Bhaskar had appointed eight senior members of the IAS cadre as nodal officers to take up various civic works in the city with better coordination. He had observed that such coordination is crucial when civic works run simultaneously. However, after his tenure, the idea fizzled out. One hopes local administration bodies across cities learn a lesson and realise that coordination among civic agencies is crucial to prevent such deaths.

The Centre's programme is much-needed but whether it delivers in the long run depends on its implementation and associated digital challenges

TELE-MENTAL HEALTH PROJECT TIMELY

DR DEBANJAN BANERJEE
Consultant Geriatric Psychiatrist, Kolkata

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The ongoing Covid-19 pandemic and the lockdowns have changed the way we live. Besides the biological effects of the SARS-CoV-2 virus, there have been several psychological and social offshoots. Mental well-being and associated health issues have assumed a renewed importance, Covid-19 serving as an eye-opener. Global research has highlighted the increased rates of depression, anxiety, sleep disturbances, etc., in individuals affected by the virus. On the other hand, long-term stress, social distancing, unemployment, financial insecurity, grief and fear of infection have led to several adverse mental health consequences for people worldwide. Of special mention are the vulnerable populations: children, adolescents, women, older people, gender and sexual minorities, the economically impoverished, migrant workers and frontline helpers. They have suffered from the dual brunt of Covid: physical and psychological adversities. Further, individuals already afflicted with mental illness and their families have struggled during the last couple of years with reduced access to mental healthcare, travel restrictions, lack of medicines, and symptoms being further worsened due to stress.

It's often said that necessity is the mother of invention. History has proven that mass crises such as pandemics bring in changes in lifestyle that are at times retained for good. The telephonic and online practice of medicine was already in existence and social distancing as well as lockdowns during Covid added a new impetus to this. In 2020, the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare (MoHFW) together with the National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences (NIMHANS), Bengaluru and the Indian Psychiatric Society (IPS) released the tele-psychiatry guidelines. This was the first-of-its-kind framework to guide mental health professionals across India to implement digital psychiatric consultations. Several research papers that followed showed that if successfully conducted, tele-mental health can be as effective as in-person consultations, besides reducing the travel expenditure and waiting time for patients and families.

The National Mental Health Survey (NMHS) 2015–2016 conducted by NIMHANS revealed that one in five individuals suffer from some sort of mental health disorder and only 15% of those affected receive the treatment required. This amounts to a massive untreated 'mental health burden' in our country. Added to this, there is just one qualified psychiatrist for 10 lakh people in India, the number of psychologists and psychiatric social workers being even fewer. Tele-mental healthcare can not only bridge this gap by connecting people from remote areas to health professionals in times of need but also help train general physicians and community health workers in mental healthcare. They form the backbone of our health infrastructure, and the ability to provide mental health services at a primary level under the tele guidance of psychiatrists is a fruitful and cost-effective exercise.

Keeping this in the background, the National Tele-Mental Health programme announced in this year's Budget makes real sense. This rare but apt mention of mental health in the national Budget holds true promise of delivering tele-mental health services in the post-Covid future. A network of 23 tele-mental health centres of excellence with NIMHANS being the nodal centre and IIIT Bangalore being the technological support hub has been proposed by the Central government. This surely shifts the national narrative to normalising conversations on mental health, reducing stigma and misinformation, and encouraging help-seeking among individuals. In fact, tele psychiatry and tele psychotherapy/ counselling can pave the way for accessible, affordable and effective mental health services across the country delivered by recognised experts in the field. In addition, this will also help training and online certification in digital mental health courses. This can empower grassroots-level health workers and lay counsellors to provide basic psychological first aid.

> The National Mental Health Survey 2015–2016 revealed that one in five individuals suffer from some sort of mental health disorder and only 15% of those affected receive the treatment required. Added to this, there is just one qualified psychiatrist for 10 lakh people in India

That being said, like any other legal document, implementation is the key and a challenge at the same time. The Mental Healthcare Act (2017) came in with a lot of promises by revamping the old act of 1987. However, only a few of those promises have stood the test of time. Even with its best intentions, the government needs to be careful when incorporating the tele-mental health programme proposal. Digital illiteracy, limited data connectivity, network glitches, ethical and legal lacunae related to telepsychiatry guidelines, limitations in medical assessment through a virtual medium and data safety are the main concerns that riddle tele-mental healthcare. Furthermore, as the Covid threat reduces with time, the inherent tendency of the masses to prefer in-person consultation will be on the rise. This may make virtual consultations redundant. Affordability issues related to telemedicine should also be borne in mind to prevent health inequalities. Hence, implementation of tele-mental healthcare cannot be decoupled from efforts to improve digital literacy, data security and enhanced accessibility to services. Advocacy by mental health professionals, media and policymakers are likely to make a lasting impact in this area.

To summarise, the proposed Tele-Mental Health Programme is a timely and much-needed move but whether it delivers in the long run depends on its implementation, advocacy and dealing with the associated digital challenges.

HOW WELL ARE WE USING WHAT WE HAVE?

ANURADHA GOYAL
Author and founder of IndiTales

Maintaining an existing water tank earns you a bigger punya than constructing a new one, said a Purana I was reading as it listed the various deeds that earn you spiritual merits and demerits. I looked back at my life lived in 10 states and 15 cities of the country and all I remember is India under construction. No matter where I lived, there was construction going around, be it houses, public buildings, roads, flyovers or bridges. I have often wondered if I would ever live peacefully without the noise and dust of construction. This quote made me think about the onslaught of infrastructure projects and the aftermath of their completion.

Do we think that our public resources are being put to good use before we launch new projects? Let us look at our public libraries. Every district, city, town, taluka and many villages have public libraries. Ask any random person around you and they probably do not know of its existence and when they do know, it is more as a landmark and rarely as an active member of the library. More often than not, these libraries have great infrastructure and are centrally located. They are the perfect places to host public events, at least the book launches, book club meetings or reading sessions. I do not recall any of this in any city I have lived in. Most of these events happen in bookstores or hotels or cafes. Only in the Goa State Central Library have I seen people and especially children actively making use of it. In most other cities, they are just another public building, distant from their intended audience in every possible way.

During a talk that I was giving on temples of India, members in the audience were struggling to understand their role as public utility buildings. Were they a religious place, an astronomical observatory, a school, a dispensary, a wedding hall, a place to celebrate festivals or a social justice delivery system? How can one place do all of it? This is what confused most people. When I thought about it, I realised that all these are independent public infrastructure in our times. A school can just be that, it cannot be a place to hold concerts in the evenings or during holidays. A wedding hall mostly stays unused during the seasons where marriages are few. Hotels stay empty during their off-season: they are either run at a high cost or shut down. Astronomical observatories are just tourist spots not even used by science enthusiasts.

I am often asked if we should build new temples, and my answer always is, can't we just maintain the existing ones. Temples that are being treated as relics of the past or mere monuments can be made living, practising places of worship. Some of them like the Kandariya Mahadeva temple in Khajuraho or Sun Temple in Modhera only need a Murti Sthapana and they can be grand living temples. Can't we take care of what we have inherited first before creating something new?

> Do we think that our public resources are being put to good use before we launch new projects? Let us look at our public libraries. Every district, city, town, taluka and many villages have public libraries. Most people probably do not know of its existence and when they do know, it is more as a landmark and rarely as an active member of the library

Drive on the outskirts of any city and you see big college buildings standing literally in the middle of fields. I wonder if there are enough students to fill those buildings or if they have used a forecasting model to accommodate future scholars. Have they focused as much on the quality of education as they have on the building? Drive in and around residential areas to see a series of shopping malls, many of them underutilised, and yet many new ones are being erected right next door. Look at the state-managed hotels that more often than not occupy the best vantage location at a destination; except for a few states, most of them are underserved due to mismanagement and service that is nearly absent.

Physical infrastructure is visible and so our political leaders love to create them. It is visual testimony of their development work. Are they being optimally used? This is like assuming that before laying a road, all possible public works that require its digging have been taken care of. Soft infrastructure is like the operating system that makes the physical device meaningful, but it is intangible and difficult to showcase and hence put on the back burner by most leaders.

Even in our personal lives, we rarely ask if we have optimally used all that we already have: be it clothes, shoes, jewellery, accessories or gadgets. Our world is dominated by the media luring us to buy more and more, linking it to our self-esteem or our standing in society, and this blurs out the piles of stuff in our closets.

I must confess that as I write this, the piles of unread books around are staring hard at me. Let me conclude by sharing a note to myself: The goal of life is neither accumulating things nor giving them up. The essence lies in enjoying what we have and making the best use of them.

Obsession with family

It is sad to see the political meltdown of Congress. Even sadder is the party's unwillingness to accept the reality and reform. The G-23 dissenters are absolutely justified in their demands such as discussions about the leadership issue and democratising the decision-making process in the party (G-23's fresh inclusive leadership call, Mar 17). The obsession with the 'Gandhi' tag is doing the Congress more harm than good, and unless many changes are made, the party will surely fade into political oblivion. The exodus of many Gandhi loyalists to the BJP and other political parties underscores the fact that they see a bleak future for the Congress. It is high time the Congress leadership took into confidence both senior and junior leaders, and got in touch with its grassroot cadre, and the common man. Mere cosmetic changes will not help revive the fortunes of the party.
Biju C Mathew, Thiruvananthapuram

Last chance for GOP

Ever since it was formed, the G-23, a group of senior Congressmen, has been giving sleepless nights to the party leadership (read the Gandhis). The G-23 has been continuously highlighting the pressing need for the election of a full-time party president after Rahul Gandhi relinquished the post due to the heavy defeat in the 2019 elections. An outspoken critic of the Gandhis, Kapil Sibal has queered the pitch by advising the family to step aside from their leadership positions and has drawn considerable flak from Sonia's sycophants. The call for collective leadership is a last-ditch effort by the G-23 to salvage the party and if this is ignored, it could well be curtains for the grand old party.
C V Aravind, Bengaluru

Same old Cong story

It is the same story when it comes to the Congress analysing its poll debacles. The post-mortem exercise has been reduced to a tamasha and the CWC meet on Sunday was no different. Though the Nehru-Gandhis pretended to step down, they knew well that the old guard in the party would rescue them. It is good to see that some G-23 leaders have better clarity this time and have clearly said that the family should step away.
S Lakshmi, Hyderabad

Riveting article on GST

This is with reference to What parotta and pizza disputes tell us about GST rates (Mar 17). The author has explained the complex GST mechanism well. The author also noted that if some goods that are considered luxuries were taxed at a lower rate, it could increase the government tax revenues. A valid point indeed.
Prasanna P, Tiruchy

Hijab row persists

Even after the Karnataka High Court's verdict over the hijab row, the dust hasn't settled. Many girls skipped classes, and a special leave petition was moved in the Supreme Court by two Udupi students against the HC order. One may recall that the court ruled that wearing a hijab is not an essential religious practice and prescribing a uniform is not a violation of the fundamental rights guaranteed under the Constitution.

Welcome decision at ICJ

Till now, India has been urging Russia and Ukraine to focus on negotiations and end hostilities. But the invader Vladimir Putin appears to have no intention to end the war. So the decision by Indian judge Dalveer Bhandari to vote against Russia in the ICJ is welcome.

Blockbuster swearing-in of Yogi 2.0 govt on the cards

Modi, Shah, Gandhis, Akhilesh in list of 200-plus VVIP guests

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE who's who of Indian politics figures in the list of guests to be invited for the post-Holi swearing-in ceremony of the second edition of the Yogi Adityanath-led BJP government.

Besides Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union home Minister Amit Shah , who may attend the event, the date for which is yet to be finalized, all the prominent opposition leaders, including Sonia Gandhi, Rahul Gandhi, Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, former CM Akhilesh Yadav, SP patriarch Mulayam Singh Yadav and BSP supremo Mayawati, will be invited to the event.

Along with this, the Chief Ministers of BJP-ruled states are also likely to make it to the list of over 200 VVIP guests.

The oath taking ceremony has been planned in Lucknow's Atal Bihari Vajpayee Stadium, which has a capacity to host a crowd of 50,000.

BJP insiders claimed that also thousands of beneficiaries of various central and state government welfare schemes will also be invited to be a part of the moment. As per the common perception, beneficiaries have voted for the BJP as a huge chunk of voters beyond the caste and regional lines.

Preparations are being made to accommodate at least 45,000 people in the stadium for the swearing in ceremony.

In the recently concluded Uttar Pradesh elections, the BJP and allies created history by winning 273 seats for a second consecutive term after 37 years in the history of state polity.

The Congress had returned to power with a majority in the state 37 years ago.

After this, Yogi Adityanath has not just made history by completing five successful years of governance but by also returning to power with a thumping majority. He has become the first such BJP leader to become the CM for the second consecutive term.

While the BJP won 255 of the 376 seats it had contested on, its allies Apna Dal (Sonelal) and NISHAD Party won 12 of 17 and 6 of 10 seats, respectively. The Samajwadi Party won 111 of the 346 seats it had contested on. SP allies including RLD won 8 seats and Suheldev Bharatiya Samaj Party won 6 seats.

'Handing affairs of UP to Priyanka a political misfire'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Ahmedabad

GIVING the responsibility of Uttar Pradesh to Priyanka Gandhi Vadra was a political misfire, senior Congress leader Shankarsinh Vaghela said on Thursday.

"There are expectations from the party high command. High Command means Soniaji and Rahul Gandhi. That should have happened at the right time for Priyanka. Political misfire happened when Priyanka was made the General Secretary of UP," he told the media, a day after attending the G-23 meet at Congress leader Ghulam Nabi Azad's residence in Delhi.

"Everyone has a career and there should be grooming... In UP, Priyanka was handling everything but this election (result) also tarnished Priyanka. There are no more right advisors," he added.

G-23 is not a revolt against Congress. They just want to put forth concerns about the functioning of the party. Congress is still number one anti-BJP party
Shankarsinh Vaghela, Congress leader

The lack of dialogue in Congress is the biggest problem , the former Gujarat chief minister said, adding that Sonia used to make decisions after listening to everyone. "Rahul Gandhi is not a bad person. But there is a question (mark) because of generation gap."

Vaghela asserted Punjab could have been handled better. "The government of Madhya Pradesh is gone. It is barely surviving in Rajasthan. All this is going on in the Congress that is why all the G-23 leaders are coming together... If someone had persuaded Rahul not to change horses in the ongoing race, such a situation would not have happened in Punjab," he added.

Bhagwant Mann announces anti-corruption helpline

Chandigarh: A day after taking oath as the Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann on Thursday announced an anti-corruption helpline to be launched on March 23 on the martyrdom day of Bhagat Singh. He also announced to reward both civil and police officers with performance award every three months for making a difference in the lives of people. Addressing his maiden meeting as the Punjab CM, Mann government would launch a WhatsApp number on March 23 for public to exclusively upload videos of corrupt officials demanding bribe for their day to day works or indulging in other malpractices so that they could be handed exemplary punishment. "The anti-corruption helpline number will be my personal WhatsApp number. If anyone asks you for a bribe, please make a video or audio record and send it to me. We will take strict action against the corrupt," he added.

CM post undecided in Manipur, say contenders

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

MANIPUR'S caretaker Chief Minister N Biren Singh as well as senior leader Thongam Biswajit dismissed as "speculation" media reports that the former will continue as the CM.

After their arrival from New Delhi, both BJP stalwarts told journalists at the Imphal airport that no decision was made on the issue.

Singh appealed to the media to not publish or broadcast speculative reports stating they could create misunderstanding among the stakeholders. "We had a review meeting in Delhi where we discussed issues pertaining to the elections," said Singh, who was accompanied by BJP state chief A Sharda Devi.

Biswajit said neither he nor Singh or Sharda Devi had any discussions with the central leadership on who will be the next CM. "The BJP leadership will decide who will be the CM. BJP is a democratic party and that's the reason why it appointed central observers for all four states," Biswajit said. "I think they will have a talk with all our legislators before a decision is made."

Union Ministers Nirmala Sitharaman and Kiren Rijiju are the BJP's observer and co-observer for Manipur.

Stating that he is one of the oldest BJP members in Manipur, Biswajit denied the state BJP was reduced to factions on the leadership issue. "We don't have any factions. People are talking about numbers. I don't know anything," he asserted.

Back in 2015, the BJP hardly had any base in Manipur but Biswajit, who was then a Trinamool Congress MLA, could foresee its rise. He defected to the party but was disqualified. Subsequently, he had won a bye-election on the BJP's ticket.

Recently, BJP's Northeast trouble-shooter and Assam CM Himanta Biswa Sarma had spoken about that risk which Biswajit took in the then Congress-dominated state.

Sawant to take over as Goa CM yet again

MUMBAI: Goa's acting chief minister Pramod Sawant is all set to take oath for the second time after March 20.

While former health minister Vishwajit Rane was doing the rounds, party insiders said Sawant's case was sealed after BJP won 20 out of the total 40 seats under his leadership.

Rane, moreover, was with the Congress before he joined the BJP in 2017 after the grand old party failed to form the government in Goa. Sources in BJP said that the central party leadership decided to go with a loyal party leader in Sawant.

"Rane tried hard with some BJP and non-BJP MLAs but he could not succeed. The reason is the BJP has got 20 seats while three Independents too already extended support to it to form the government. Therefore, BJP is not in need of any outside support that would have forced it to change the leadership," said a party insider.

The buzz was further confirmed when an irritated Rane brushed aside media queries about his CM ambition. ENS

HARISH RAWAT JUMPS INTO PCC CHIEF FIGHT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Dehradun

FACTIONALISM in the Uttarakhand unit of Congress has reared its head with two camps trying to instal their candidate to head the opposition party.

The turf war started soon after PCC chief Ganesh Godiyal resigned after party president Sonia Gandhi asked the state party chiefs of five states to resign earlier this week.

"This has started tussle between the factions, especially Harish Rawat and Pritam Singh camps to install their people at the key position in the state organisation of the party. It is going to be uglier than ever if Harish Rawat refuses to give space to others," said a party insider.

Rawat has been projecting himself as the CM face indirectly but the central leadership had refused to give in. Earlier this week, the former chief minister claimed responsibility for loss of the party in Uttarakhand. In a social media post, he had alleged that he was forced to contest from Lalkuwa where he knew his prospects were not bright.

Former party president Pritam Singh, who won from Chakrata, had said that leaders should not contest from any seat but focus on the seat where they have worked for five years.

There are two conflicting views in the party — one that suggests it is time to identify and promote new rung of leadership and the other which still swears by his experience which, some say, lead to the Congress tally going up from 11 seats to 18.

'ICJ judge voted against Russia in individual capacity'

NEW DELHI: The Ministry of External Affairs on Thursday said judges at the International Court of Justice vote in their individual capacity, a day after Indian judge Dalveer Bhandari voted against Russia at the United Nations' highest court.

The International Court of Justice (ICJ) had on Wednesday ordered Russia to stop hostilities in Ukraine, granting measures requested by Kyiv.

The court order was supported by 13 judges, while two voted against it — Vice-President Kirill Gevorgian from Russia and Judge Xue Hanqin from China. India's judge, Dalveer Bhandari, voted against Russia.

Asked about the vote at a media briefing, Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said, "They are (there) in individual capacities and they vote on the merits of that. Not appropriate to comment on how judges in the ICJ vote."

Pressed for a comment, the MEA spokesperson reiterated, "He (Justice Bhandari) happens to be an Indian national who is a member in his individual capacity on the ICJ. I am not going to comment on how judges vote on issues that come to the ICJ."

Justice Bhandari had voted against Russia in the ICJ where Kyiv dragged Moscow after Russia's attack on February 24. India has been abstained from voting on the Ukraine-Russia conflict in the UN and instead urged both sides to focus on talks. PTI

India's strategies helped in better Omicron handling than others: Govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA has administered over 180 crore vaccine doses which is 3.2 times that of the US and 12.7 times of France, the Union health ministry said on Thursday.

About 96.74 crore adult beneficiaries have received at least the first dose, which is 2.96 times the population of the US and 6.71 times the population of Russia, it said sharing data at a webinar on India's public health response to manage Covid with NGOs and other stakeholders.

It also said that 81.52 crore people who are fully vaccinated are 3.83 times the population of Brazil and 12.13 times the UK population.

With 3,536 Covid cases reported on an average on March 15, India accounted only 0.21 per cent of the global cases, despite the surge due to the Omicron variant leading to six times the previous waves.

Success formula
Timely measures, including test, track and treat approach with focused genome sequencing, containment, community surveillance, protocols for home isolation and effective clinical treatment, have in tandem contributed to India's success.

"India's public health response strategies have resulted in better management of Omicron surge compared to many other countries," Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya said in a briefing.

Despite the large population having geographical and sociological diversities, India was able to set global standards of vaccination, he said, adding that expedited vaccination drive along with effective containment measures and early identification of cases contributed to lower hospitalisation and fewer deaths during the third surge in India.

Officials said that by December 31, when the first signs of the third wave emerged globally, India had vaccinated 90.8 percent of its eligible population with the first dose and 65.4 percent with the second dose, which played a big role in saving lives.

Expressing gratitude to all the grassroots-level NGOs and other stakeholders, the minister said their "continued partnership" is needed to ensure that the gains do not dwindle.

Modi to hold summits with Japan, Oz PMs

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

THE next few days will be like a prelude to Quad Summit, to be held in Tokyo next month, as Japan's Prime Minister Kishida Fumio will be on a two-day visit to Delhi, followed by a virtual meeting between Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his Australian counterpart Scott Morrison.

PM Kishida will be in Delhi on the March 19-20 for the 14th India-Japan Annual Summit, which is being held after a gap of nearly three-and-a-half years. This will be the first meeting between him and PM Modi. The previous summit took place in Tokyo in October 2018.

Both India and Japan have multi-faceted cooperation within the ambit of their 'Special Strategic and Global Partnership'. The summit will provide an opportunity for both sides to review and strengthen the bilateral cooperation in diverse areas as well as exchange views on regional and global issues of mutual interest so as to advance their partnership for peace, stability and prosperity in the Indo-Pacific region and beyond.

The Modi-Kishida meeting will be followed by the second India-Australia Virtual Summit on March 21. The first virtual summit between the two was held on June 4, 2020, when the relationship between India and Australia was raised to a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership.

The two PMs are expected to "commit to closer cooperation in trade, critical minerals, migration and mobility, and education, among others", said MEA spokesperson Arindam Bagchi. "The leaders will take stock of progress made on various initiatives under the Comprehensive Strategic Partnership," he added.

The partnership has maintained the momentum of an upward trajectory, with both countries continuing to collaborate closely, despite the COVID-19 pandemic.

India's swipe at Pak on OIC invite to Hurriyat

New Delhi: India does not expect Organisation of Islamic Cooperation (OIC) to encourage organisations engaged in terrorism, the MEA said on Thursday. The statement came after the OIC invited the chairman of All Parties Hurriyat Conference to attend a meeting of its foreign ministers in Islamabad. "The Government of India takes a very serious view of such actions, which are aimed directly at subverting India's unity and violating our sovereignty and territorial integrity," MEA spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said. "It is highly unfortunate that OIC continues to be guided by a single member's political agenda rather than focusing on other important development activities," he said without naming Pakistan.

Don't sever ties with motherland: CJI Ramana to Indian expats

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

INDIANS living abroad should remain in connect with their country and become representatives of their rich culture, Chief Justice of India (CJI) NV Ramana said on Thursday.

"Expats are advised and requested to not forget their motherland and mother tongue. They should sustain and promote their culture, celebrate festivals, organise and join cultural events," Ramana said at Indian Cultural and Social Centre, Abu Dhabi where the CJI and Justice Hima Kohli were felicitated by the Indian community.

Indians constitute a major ethnicity in the UAE and Indians are now completely integrated into the fabric of this society, he said.

Acknowledging the cordial ties shared by New Delhi and Abu Dhabi, Ramana said Indians have contributed to UAE's development. "All of you have significantly contributed to India's development too. I remember that when Kerala faced devastating floods, it was my Gulf brothers and sisters who were the first to send money aid to the state," he said.

Regarding judicial issues pertaining to the two countries, the CJI highlighted the pending extradition orders which need to be expedited, transfer of sentence of prisoners and other related matter.

"...Another is expediting Indian consular visits. In addition, we have also discussed implementation of awards of the judgements so benefit can be given.

"In family courts, certain legislations were made by the UAE government to protect the traditional voice of Indians who came from different parts and non-Muslims. They have created the courts and they are going to make and implement it. There are not sufficient translators," he said.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

CRPF Director General Kuldeep Singh on Thursday claimed the situation in Jammu and Kashmir has "improved significantly" since the abrogation of Article 370 in 2019. Addressing journalists in the national capital, two days ahead of the 83rd Raising Day parade to be held in Jammu, Singh said as many as 175 terrorists were killed and 183 were apprehended by the Central Reserve Police Force in Jammu and Kashmir between March 1, 2021, and March 16, 2022.

Speaking on the recent spike in violence in J&K, Singh said, "It is not as if the situation is out of hand. After the abrogation of Article 370, the incidents of stone-throwing are almost nil. There is a decrease in the infiltration of foreign terrorists and attacks."

The CRPF also eliminated 19 Maoists and arrested 699 in various operations in Left Wing Extremism-affected states during the same period, he said.

The DG further said the situation in Jammu and Kashmir is "very good" and is "improving further".

The CRPF chief said the paramilitary force is currently providing security cover to 117 persons of various categories. He said a total of 41 VIPs were provided security cover by the CRPF during recently concluded Assembly elections in five states and the security of 27 protectees have been withdrawn post-elections.

When asked about delays in evacuation of CRPF personnel, Singh said he will hold himself responsible for delays in air-evacuation of injured personnel but pointed out that sometimes "practical difficulties" crop up in executing such operations in the anti-Naxal combat domain.

Talking about a recent incident in which an injured CRPF officer in Bihar could not be airlifted for over seven hours, he said that "why the helicopter could not evacuate the officer or during other operations is a big technical issue".

"If you ask who is responsible for this, I would hold myself responsible, it is our responsibility to ensure helicopters are provided to troops because it is we who ask our troops to go out for operations. If anyone is to be blamed, it is me. But I can tell you that pilots and agencies operating sorties in these areas are professionals," he said.

'DETAINED SCRIBE IS ANTI-NATIONAL'

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

FAHAD Shah, Kashmir-based journalist and editor of local newsmagazine and online portal The Kashmir Walla, who has been under detention since February 4 and recently booked under stringent Public Safety Act (PSA), is accused in the PSA dossier of being an "anti-national element under the cover of journalism". The dossier further alleged that "good governance hardly finds mention in his stories".

The dossier prepared by SSP Srinagar alleged that Fahad was having radical ideology right from his childhood. "... Being a prominent journalist by profession, your approach has been based on creating a rift between the groups of law abiding masses. There have been many occasions when you have promoted separatism through articles, tweets and social media posts, thus clearly trying to advance your own radical ideology."

Fahad was booked under PSA on March 14. Under the Act, a person can be put behind bars without trial for up to two years. Thirty-three-year-old Fahad was arrested in three cases and granted bail in two cases by the court.

"Through your online news portal (thekashmirwalla.com) you are continuously propagating stories in a particular selective narrative which is in line with the ISI/separatist propaganda. Over the last two years you have followed a selective/ particular pattern of disseminating anti-India sentiment in a very subtle manner mostly though some of the stories are brazenly provocative as well," alleged the dossier.

Yadavs form big chunk of SP MLC poll candidates

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

BELYING its tall claims of 'social inclusiveness' during the Assembly poll campaign, the Samajwadi Party seems to have gone back to its basics, banking more upon its core vote bank in the upcoming Vidhan Parishad (UP Legislative Council) election by fielding 16 Yadavs in the list of 22 candidates. During the Assembly election, SP had given push to social engineering to wash off the tag of being a party of only Muslims and Yadavs.

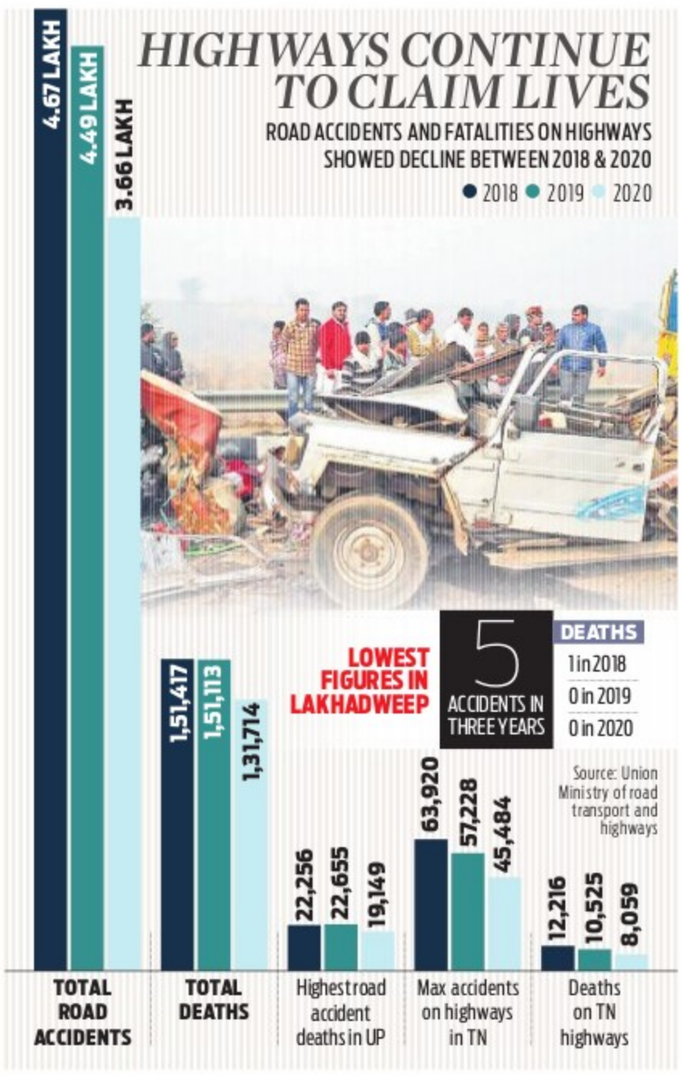
Among the other six candidates declared by the party so far, two are Muslims — Dr Kafeel Khan for Deoria–Kushinagar seat and Maqsoor Ahmad for Rampur-Bareily seat. Four others include Anurag Verma for Lakhimpur Kheri, Virendra Shankar Singh for Rae Bareli, Bhanu Kumar for Gonda and Arunesh Kumar for Sitapur.

The party has placed its bet on youngsters with almost 50% candidates being first-timers.

The voting for the MLC polls on 36 seats across 35 local bodies of the state will be held on April 9 and counting of votes will be held on April 12. All the public representatives right from the MLAs to corporators and district panchayat members will vote for their respective region-wise seats.

The party had released a list of 18 names first. On late Thursday evening, it announced four more names — Arvind Yadav (Ballia), Bhola Nath Yadav (Ghazipur), Bhanu Kumar (Gonda) and Arunesh Kumar (Sitapur), taking the list of candidates to 22. Of the four names announced on Thursday, two are Yadavs.

Sources said the party has authorised almost all the 36 candidates to file their nominations and was unlikely to officially release more names. The candidates have been directed to file their nominations directly.



Shah says need to expand trade with neighbours

NEW DELHI: Stating that trade corridors are important, Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Thursday said India needs to expand trade with neighbouring countries. "We face different challenges and opportunities at our land borders with seven countries (China, Pakistan, Bhutan, Myanmar, Afghanistan, Nepal and Bangladesh)," he said at the 10th Foundation Day of the Land Ports Authority of India.

Shah also called for the need to strengthen cultural relations and people-to-people contact with neighbouring countries and said "there is bonding among the people as much of these areas were part of India before 1947".

Shah said India's 15,000 km-long borders with Afghanistan, China, Nepal, Bhutan, Bangladesh, Myanmar and Pakistan offer different challenges at every 50km. "There is hardly any country in the world which has so many challenges along their land borders. Also, there is hardly any country which has so many opportunities that India has along its land border," Shah said. ENS

Navy focusing on underwater warfare: Defence secy

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE Indian Navy is focusing on developing its underwater capabilities keeping in mind the rising significance of underwater warfare. Defence Secretary Dr Ajay Kumar told the Standing Committee on Defence that the navy is "working a lot" in this area. However, the committee noted that there has been lesser allocation of capital funds to the navy.

Kumar said the force is focusing on three focus areas — unmanned aerial vehicles, unmanned underwater vehicles and underwater domain awareness.

"Similar to the increase in the importance of space warfare, the warfare below the surface of water will gain prominence," he said.

The report of the standing committee tabled in Lok Sabha on Thursday mentions the deductions in the allocation of capital funds to the navy. "Under Capital Head for FY 2022-23, navy's projection is ₹67,622.96 cr but the allocation to be made is ₹47,590.99 cr."

"There was a deduction in allocating funds for capital expenditure in 2021-22 under the revised estimate where the projection of navy was ₹50,011.38 cr against which an allocation of ₹46,021.54 crore was made, hence, ₹3,989.84 cr short of demand," the committee noted.

YELLOW, YELLOW, PRETTY FELLOWS!

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

SINCE March 10, Punjab has turned basanti (a shade of yellow) to herald change this spring. Anecdotes have it that Shaheed Bhagat Singh and his associates sang 'Mera rang de basanti chola' composed by fellow revolutionary freedom fighter Ram Prasad Bismil in prison. With the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) seeking to appropriate Bhagat Singh and the colour associated with him, basanti is the flavour of the season when it comes to headgears, if not the cholas (long, lose attires).

So, yellow turbans are the new trend in the state and are being preferred by AAP leaders and supporters, right from the newly elected chief minister, Bhagwant Mann. The colour is associated with inquilab (revolution), patriotism, new beginning and spring (basant literally means spring).

When the AAP had come to power in Delhi, all party workers and supporters donned the white Gandhi topi with the words Main Hoon Aam Aadmi. On Wednesday, when Mann took oath as Punjab CM, yellow ruled the landscape at Khattar Kalan, the ancestral village of Bhagat Singh, where the swearing-in ceremony took place.

"The sale of basanti turbans has gone up as there's tremendous craze for them. We have been selling around 50 turbans a day," said a shopkeeper.

During the Congress rule, party leaders didn't have a specific colour choice for their turbans, although former CMs Amarinder Singh and Charanjit Singh Channi generally preferred pink and red, respectively, while other leaders mostly wore white.

Political analyst Prof Jagrup Singh Sekhon said, "Political leaders are wearing turbans of different colours as there is a historic significance to that. SAD leaders earlier used to wear black turbans as their movement came out of protests. Later, they switched to dark blue. Congress leaders mostly use white, a colour associated with purity, while Communists wear red, the colour of revolution."

21 KILLED IN PRE-DAWN RUSSIAN ATTACK ON SCHOOL

KYIV

AT LEAST 21 people were killed and 25 were injured on Thursday when Russian forces shelled a town in eastern Ukraine, local prosecutors said. Artillery fire early on Thursday hit a school and a cultural centre in the town of Merefa outside the city of Kharkiv, regional prosecutors said in a Facebook post. Of the wounded, 10 people are in serious condition, they said. A photo accompanying the prosecutors' statement showed a building of several storeys that was destroyed in the middle with windows blown out and emergency workers combing through the wreckage. Kharkiv, Ukraine's second-largest city and some 30 km north of Merefa, has been the scene of intense Russian air strikes in recent weeks and has been severely damaged.

Rescuers searched for survivors in the ruins of a theatre blown apart by a Russian airstrike in the besieged city of Mariupol, while a ferocious bombardment left dozens dead in a northern city over the past day, authorities said.

Hundreds of civilians had been taking shelter in the grand, columned theater in central Mariupol after their homes were destroyed in three weeks of fighting in the southern port city.

Nearly a day after the airstrike, there were no reports of deaths.

With much of the city cut off from the flow of information, there were also conflicting reports on whether anyone had emerged from the rubble.

"We hope and we think that some people who stayed in the shelter under the theater could survive," said Petro Andrushchenko, an official with the mayor's office.

He said the building had a relatively modern basement bomb shelter designed to withstand airstrikes.

Other officials had said earlier that some people had gotten out. Ukraine's ombudswoman, Ludmyla Denisova, said on the Telegram messaging app that the shelter had held up.

Satellite imagery on Monday from Maxar technology showed huge white letters on the pavement in front of and behind the theater spelling out "CHILDREN" in Russian to alert warplanes to those inside. AP/AFP

Biden brands Putin 'war criminal'

WASHINGTON/MOSCOW

US President Joe Biden has called his Russian counterpart Vladimir Putin a "war criminal", prompting an angry response from the Kremlin which denounced it as "unforgivable rhetoric" from a head of state.

Biden's off-the-cuff remarks on Wednesday was the harshest condemnation of Putin's actions from any US official since Russia launched a 'special military operation' in Ukraine three weeks ago.

President Biden had earlier stopped short of labelling atrocities being documented on the ground in Ukraine as "war crimes," citing ongoing international and US investigations.

> We consider such rhetoric from a head of the state, whose bombs killed hundreds of thousands of people around the world, to be unacceptable
> Dmitry Peskov, Kremlin spokesman

White House Press Secretary Jen Psaki later defended Biden and said the president had been speaking from his heart after seeing "barbaric" images of the violence in Ukraine.

In Moscow, Kremlin described Biden's "war criminal" remarks as 'unforgiveable rhetoric'. "We consider such rhetoric from a head of the state, whose bombs killed hundreds of thousands of people around the world, to be unacceptable and unforgivable," Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov was quoted as saying by Russian state news agency TASS. PTI

Russian-European Mars mission suspended

PARIS

A RUSSIAN-EUROPEAN mission to land a rover on Mars has been suspended due to sanctions over Moscow's invasion of Ukraine and its "tragic consequences", the European Space Agency said on Thursday. "We deeply deplore the human casualties and tragic consequences of the aggression towards Ukraine," the agency said as it confirmed the suspension of the ExoMars mission.

The mission had been planned to launch in September using a Russian launcher and lander to put the rover on Mars to drill into the soil, searching for signs of life.

However, Russian space agency Roscosmos responded to EU sanctions over the invasion by suspending launches and withdrawing more than 100 of its workers from Europe's spaceport in French Guiana's Kourou.

The ESA's ruling council said in a statement Thursday that its director general would now "carry out a fast-track industrial study to better define the available options for a way forward to implement the ExoMars rover mission".

ExoMars had originally been planned to launch in 2020, but was postponed due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

It was set to be launched from the Baikonur Cosmodrome in Kazakhstan by a Russian Soyuz rocket, then taken down to the Martian soil by Russia's Kazachok lander. Getting the Rosalind Franklin rover, named after an English chemist and DNA pioneer, into space without Russian help will likely require huge revisions, and the window to launch only comes around every two years.

All other ESA missions using Russia's Soyuz rocket have been suspended. They are two satellites for Europe's Galileo GPS system, the Euclid space telescope mission and the European-Japanese EarthCARE observation satellite. The ESA said "the International Space Station programme continues to operate nominally". There were fears that soaring tensions could leave American astronaut Mark Vande Hei, who is due to return to Baikonur, stranded on the outpost. AFP

PUTIN VOWS TO CLEANSE RUSSIA OF SCUM, TRAITORS

Moscow: Russian President Vladimir Putin went on television Wednesday to excoriate Russians who don't back him. Russians "will always be able to distinguish true patriots from scum and traitors and will simply spit them out like a gnat that accidentally flew into their mouths," said Putin, using language reminiscent of the Stalinist era. "I am convinced that such a natural and necessary self-purification of society will only strengthen our country." He said the West is using a "fifth column" of traitorous Russians to create civil unrest. "And there is only one goal, I have already spoken about it — the destruction of Russia," he said. The speech appeared to be a warning that his authoritarian rule, which had already grown tighter since the invasion began on Feb. 24, could grow even more repressive. In a sign of that, Russian law enforcement announced the first known criminal cases under a new law that allows for 15-year prison terms for posting what is deemed to be "false information" about the war.

RUSSIA REJECTS INT'L COURT RULING

Moscow: Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said Moscow rejected the ruling of the International Court of Justice that ordered Russia to halt its operation in Ukraine. During his daily conference call with reporters, Peskov noted that both sides need to agree on implementing the ruling, and on Russia's side "there can be no consent." Peskov also said that talks between Russia and Ukraine will continue. "I don't know if they are already under way or not, but they should be today," he said. AFP

30k civilians flee Mariupol

KYIV

AROUND 30,000 civilians have fled Ukraine's besieged port city of Mariupol, officials said on Thursday.

Mariupol's city hall said on Telegram that "around 30,000 people have left on their transport", adding that "80 percent of residential housing was destroyed".

The city hall said on Thursday that a swimming pool also sheltering civilians — "mostly women, children and the elderly" — had also been shelled.

It said that "an average of 50 to 100 air bombs are dropped on the city per day".

Officials described the situation as "critical", estimating that around 350,000 residents are hiding in shelters and basements in the city.

The officials added that the Ukrainian army is "continuing to heroically hold the defence of Mariupol and repel enemy (Russcian) attacks" and that troops are fighting "for every street". AFP

FOOD SECURITY IN PERIL, WARNS UN

A report by the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development notes that Russia accounted for nearly a third of wheat imports for Africa, or $3.7 billion, in 2018-2020, while 12%, worth $1.4 billion, came from Ukraine.

4 killed, more than 90 injured in Japan quake

TOKYO

A POWERFUL 7.4 magnitude earthquake struck off the coast of Fukushima in northern Japan on Wednesday night, smashing furniture, knocking out power and killing four people. A small tsunami reached shore, but the low-risk advisory was lifted by Thursday morning.

The region is part of northern Japan that was devastated by a deadly 9.0 quake and tsunami 11 years ago that caused nuclear reactor meltdowns, spewing massive radiation that still makes some parts uninhabitable.

Prime Minister Fumio Kishida told a parliamentary session Thursday morning that four people died during the quake and the cause of their deaths are being investigated, while 97 others were injured. A man in his 60s in Soma city died after falling from the second floor of his house while trying to evacuate, and a man in his 70s panicked and suffered a heart attack, Kyodo News reported earlier.

The Japan Meteorological Agency early Thursday lifted its low-risk advisory for a tsunami along the coasts of Fukushima and Miyagi prefectures. Tsunami waves of 30cm reached shore in Ishinomaki, about 390km northeast of Tokyo.

The agency upgraded the magnitude of the quake to 7.4 from the initial 7.3, and the depth from 60km below the sea to 56km.

NHK footage showed broken walls of a department store building fell to the ground and shards of windows scattered on the street near the main train station in the inland prefectural capital of Fukushima city. Roads were cracked and water poured out from pipes underground. AP

UN votes to secure formal presence in Afghan

UNITED NATIONS

THE UN Security Council adopted a resolution Thursday to secure a formal presence in Afghanistan, whose Taliban government remains unrecognised by the international community.

The resolution — which avoids using the word Taliban — will allow the UN to continue its "crucial" work in Afghanistan, still reeling after decades of war and whose economy was devastated when the international community cut off aid as the Taliban took power last year. The vote was 14 in favor, with one abstention, by Russia. The United Nations has not yet recognized the Taliban's pick of envoy to the body, and the resolution does not give the new government international recognition. It includes several strands of cooperation, on the humanitarian, political and human rights fronts, including those of women, children and journalists. "This new mandate for UNAMA (the UN mission to Afghanistan) is crucial not only to respond to the immediate humanitarian and economic crisis, but also to reach our overarching goal of peace and stability in Afghanistan," Norwegian UN ambassador Mona Juul, whose country drafted the resolution, told AFP after the vote. AFP

Imran fights for survival amid desertions ahead of trust vote

PAKISTAN

PAKISTAN Prime Minister Imran Khan's fate is hanging in the balance as he braces for a no-confidence motion on March 28. Opposition parties seek to throw out Khan alleging he has mismanaged the country's economy, governance and foreign policy.

Several members of the National Assembly (MNAs) from the Khan-led Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) have reportedly deserted him while cracks have appeared in the ruling coalition.

According to Pakistan media, at least 24 PTI lawmakers have moved to the Sindh House, run by the Sindh provincial government. The main opposition party, the Pakistan People's Party (PPP), is in power in Sindh. While Khan's party, the PTI, alleges the Sindh House has become the centre of horse trading, the opposition fears Imran would deploy police as well has his partymen to target the lawmakers in the building.

Khan needs 172 votes to defeat the no-trust motion but PTI has only 155 members in the 342-strong National Assembly and relies on coalition parties to stay in power. The joint opposition parties have a strength of 163 MNAs.

Till date, no democratically-elected prime minister in Pakistan has completed a full term in office. ENS

Oyo rejigs top brass amid IPO delay rumors

It is being reported that Oyo is considering slashing its fundraising target by half or even suspending its IPO plan

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

AMID rumors that Oyo may shelve its IPO plans, the hospitality service provider is making major managerial changes.

Rohit Kapoor, the current CEO - India & Southeast Asia - will now be the company's global marketing head. Global Chief Business Officer Ankit Tandon will take on the additional responsibility of Southeast Asia with specific focus on Indonesia and the Middle East region as its CEO. Ankit Gupta, currently the CEO of Hotels and Homes - India will take on the role of CEO - India.

All three executives are taking the new responsibilities from 1st April 2022 and will report to the founder & Group CEO, Ritesh Agarwal.

The change comes at a time when it is reported that the Softbank-backed Oyo is considering slashing its fundraising target by half or even suspending its IPO plan. Oyo had filed its draft paper September last year for a ₹8,430 crore initial public offering (IPO) but is yet to receive approval from market regulator SEBI.

Add to it, Zo Rooms and Federation of Hotel and Restaurant Associations of India (FHRAI) have asked the regulator not to approve the IPO.

According to a report by news agency Bloomberg, Oyo operator Oravel Stays could clip its Indian IPO from the nearly $1 billion initially sought to half that and is considering also halving its expected valuation from the $12 billion originally targeted. Oyo could even decide to suspend its IPO plans, the report said, citing unnamed people familiar with the development.

This also comes at a time when new-age companies, especially one which are yet to report profit, have fared poorly on the domestic stock exchanges and emerged as one the biggest wealth destroyers. Zomato, which was the first loss-making new-age company to launch IPO in July 2021, has lost over 35% of its value since its blockbuster debut while Paytm shares are trading at just one-third of its issue price.

Restart activities are progressing well, say Jet Airways owners

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AS financial year 2022 is about to end and there is yet no definite timeline as to when it would make its second inning's maiden flight, the Jalan-Kalrock Consortium, new promoters of the beleaguered Jet Airways, said that the scheduled services of the airline will restart soon.

The consortium, in a statement, stated that the "restart activities are progressing well" and that they are in talks with the government for approvals and with aircraft lessors for aircrafts. "We are working closely with the Ministry of Civil Aviation, Government of India, and the Directorate General of Civil Aviation ("DGCA") on the approval process and timelines for proving flight, following which the Air Operator Certificate ("AOC") of Jet Airways will be re-validated. The resumption of scheduled services will follow soon thereafter," the consortium said.

It added restarting an airline is a complex exercise that must be done meticulously, in coordination with the regulatory authorities. It also said that the extension of timeline has nothing to do with where aircraft are registered and deregistered or the cost of leasing.

Jet had recently appointed aviation veteran Sanjiv Kapoor as the Chief Executive Officer and Vipula Gunatileka, the former CEO of Sri Lankan Airlines, as the airline's chief financial officer, giving a major boost to the airline's revival plan. Jet has faced multiple setbacks since the consortium's plan to revive it was approved by the NCLT in June 2021.

'Restarting airline a complex excercise'

The Jalan-Kalrock Consortium said restarting an airline is a complex exercise that must be done meticulously in coordination with the regulatory authorities. It also said the extension of timeline has nothing to do with where aircraft are registered.

Indian market jumps on global cues

INDIAN frontline indices gapped up and closed almost 2% higher ahead of a long weekend on strong overnight gains in Europe and the US, which raised a benchmark interest rate by 25 basis points from near zero, as anticipated by financial markets.

FIIs purchased equities worth a provisional ₹2800 crore on Thursday. So far this fiscal they've sold shares worth ₹1.4 lakh crore.

Analysts said markets would take further cues from how the situation in Ukraine unravels from here and on how bond yields and crude oil move.

The Nifty and Sensex gained 1.84% each to close at 17287.05 and 57863.93 on short covering and some fresh cash based buying. Investor wealth rose by ₹4 lakh crore, led by gains in heavyweights such as HDFC, Titan, Kotak Bank, Reliance and Asian Paints, which rose between 3% and 5.5%.

The short covering was clearly indicated by the Nifty and Bank Nifty active futures contracts witnessing a decline in open interest as their prices rose. A fall in OI accompanied by rise in prices is indicative of short covering. Separately, NSE posted cash traded volume of ₹86,007 crore against ₹54733 crore on Wednesday.

Mercedes hikes car prices by up to 3%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU

LUXURY cars are to get pricier as Mercedes-Benz India has announced an upward revision in price of its entire model range effective April 1, 2022. The imminent price correction would be in the range of 3%, across the entire model range, roughly translating to ₹50,000-₹5 lakh, depending on the model.

The German carmaker said that an increase in input costs in addition to an increase in logistics costs have been exerting significant pressure on the overall costs of the company. The rising input costs also led to a significant increase in the company's operational costs, prompting Mercedes-Benz to revise the ex-showroom price of the entire model range in its endeavour to operate a sustainable and fundamentally strong business. Martin Schwenk, Managing Director & CEO, Mercedes-Benz India said, "To run a sustainable business a price correction is necessary to offset the continuous rise in input and operational costs."

Earlier in March, German brand Audi implemented a similar hike of up to 3% on its portfolio models.

Correct timing of LIC IPO crucial: RBI

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE initial public offer of Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) of India is set to be the biggest ever in India, and hence, correct timing of the IPO is crucial, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has said in its March 2022 State of the Economy report.

"With 35% of the issue size reserved for retail investors, their response is critical for the success of the LIC IPO," says the report.

The RBI report further says that the LIC IPO presents a fresh opportunity to deepen the equity markets' reach further. It says that LIC's huge policyholder base has the potential to bring a large number of new investors -- who have historically relied on traditional saving products n-- to the capital markets.

"The deepening of capital markets is also vital for divestment plans of the government, and therefore, it is important to inculcate investors' trust in key market infrastructure institutions," says the report.

The government is divesting 5% in LIC through an offer for sale issue of 3,16,249,885 equity shares of the state-owned insurer. The government had planned to list the IPO in this financial year to meet its disinvestment target of ₹78,000 crore. Till January, the government had been able to achieve only ₹12,000 crore.

However, given the uncertainty in the market due to geopolitical tension between Russia and Ukraine, the government has now decided to delay the listing of the company.

The finance ministry sources have already hinted that the listing of the state-owned life insurer is unlikely to fructify in the current financial year as the equity market situation is not good at present.

Meanwhile, the RBI in its State of the Economy report has said that domestic equities continued to remain under pressure and recorded further correction in early March as concerns over spillover effects of the war in Ukraine and a sharp jump in crude oil prices weighed on market sentiment.

It further said that following the recent correction in equities and resilient growth in corporate earnings, the price-to-earnings (P/E) ratio of the BSE Sensex declined and the valuation premium over its long-term average has moderated.

Geopolitical tension poses downside risk for economy

The RBI in its State of the Economy report has said that despite the ongoing geopolitical crisis India's macroeconomic fundamentals remain strong. However, it believes that the unfolding global developments pose downside risks. It says that spiralling oil and gas prices and unsettled financial market conditions pose fresh headwinds to the still incomplete global recovery. The country's central bank noted: "As the conflict escalates, oil and other commodity prices are blazing to multiyear highs, and financial markets are on edge, driven by massive sell-offs." It, however, pointed out that amidst these testing times, India is making steady progress on the domestic front as it recovers from the third wave. It says that consumer and business confidence are rising alongside improvement in demand conditions. On the supply side, it says a resilient farm sector and a sustained retrieval in both industrial and services sectors are broadening the recovery.

Oil demand likely to surge by 8.2% to 5.15 mn barrels per day

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

INDIA'S oil demand is likely to increase by 8.2% to 5.15 million barrels per day in 2022, claims a report released by the Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) on Thursday.

The monthly report also noted that India is to add 0.39 million barrels per day (bpd) of crude oil demand in 2022. "Crude imports are expected to rise in February, as the economy gains momentum and refiners boost runs. Product imports are also expected to pick up in February, while product exports may edge lower, as the continued lifting of lockdown measures supports domestic demand. However, recent crude and product trade dislocations have added considerable uncertainty," reads the report.

India's oil demand rose from 4.51 million barrels per day in 2020 to 4.76 million bpd in 2021, a 5.61% increase.

But this was below the pre-pandemic levels. The oil demand in 2018 was 4.98 million bpd, which rose to 4.99 million bpd in 2019, the year when the pandemic struck.

The reports also highlighted that gasoline and diesel are likely to be particularly favoured by the expected rise in India's GDP and the already recovering mobility and consequently driving activity.

Similarly, in line with a forecast for a robust economy in 2022, the industrial sector will provide support for diesel, LPG and naphtha requirements. However, Jet kerosene demand improvement is expected to be slower in 2022 because of travel challenges, particularly business-related. Nevertheless, India is projected to grow by 0.4 mb/d y-o-y in 2022.

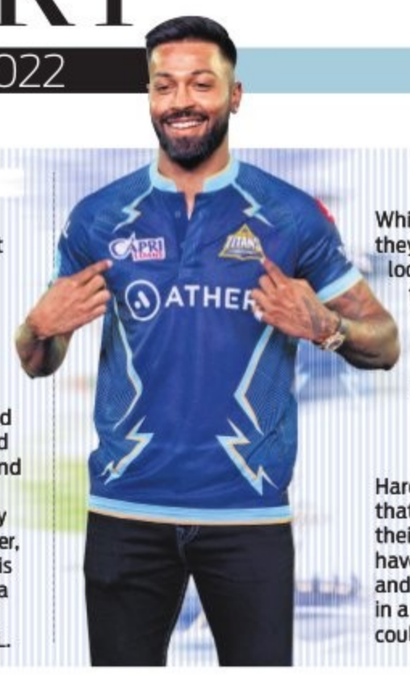
IPL 8 DAYS TO GO

TITANS GET READY FOR IPL BOW

Gujarat Titans is one of the two new teams in the Indian Premier League and the Ahmedabad outfit has built up a squad from scratch. A quick look at how the team is shaping up ahead of their foray into the IPL...



ALL BASES COVERED

It was never an easy task for the Titans to put together an IPL outfit and head coach Ashish Nehra and mentor Gary Kirsten started the process by roping in stars like Hardik Pandya, Rashid Khan and Shubman Gill prior to the auction. While these star players will form the core of the team, the Titans had a busy auction as well. They shelled out `10 crore for Lockie Ferguson and the likes of Rahul Tewatia and Mohammed Shami were big-money arrivals. The presence of David Miller, Alzarri Joseph and Matthew Wade is an indication that the Titans have a squad comprising genuine quality with some proven performers in IPL.

WEAK POINT

While Jason Roy's pullout from the IPL is a big setback for the team, they still have a lot of firepower at the top to go with an impressive-looking bowling unit. However, it is the middle order that raises a few questions. Hardik is considered one of the finest all-rounders around but the Titans captain hasn't played a lot of cricket recently owing to injuries. They have others like David Miller, Vijay Shankar and Wade who have proven pedigree but none of them have done exceptionally well in the IPL in recent seasons.

A CLEAN SLATE

Hardik has never captained an IPL side and Titans would be hoping that the 28-year-old comes of age as a captain. What could work in their favour is that being a completely new outfit, the team will have less spotlight on them as they can go about building a culture and roadmap going forward. With an experienced hand like Kirsten in a mentoring role and the presence of experienced stars, the Titans could give other sides a tough fight and spring a few surprises.

Lakshya wins battle of Worlds medallists; Sindhu, Saina go out

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

Lakshya Sen | AFP

LAKSHYA Sen has been operating with new-found verve in recent times, accounting for some big names in the world of badminton in the process.

His elevated style of play was evident on Thursday as he frustrated a higher-ranked opponent in Anders Antonsen in the second round of the ongoing All England Open Championships in Birmingham. However, PV Sindhu's quest for her maiden title in the marquee competition ended after she lost 21-19, 16-21, 21-17 against Sayaka Takahashi of Japan in the women's singles second round.

Antonsen, on paper, was bound to be a formidable opponent. It was a battle between World Championships bronze medallists. Both had settled for bronze medals after losing their respective semifinals in the 2021 edition in Huelva, Spain.

Moreover, the World No 3 Dane had entered after getting the better of Loh Kean Yew in the opening round. But he had expended 74 minutes in the process. Lakshya, on the other hand, had spent just 33 minutes dispatching Sourabh Verma in Round 1.

Lakshya played with bundle of energy on Thursday as Antonsen struggled to match his intensity level. Antonsen tried every trick in the book to disturb Lakshya's rhythm, but the latter was simply calm, forcing Antonsen to make mistakes and occasionally, outwitting him with his cross-court smashes and eventually taking the match 21-16, 21-18.

Saina Nehwal, meanwhile, put up a spirited fight against second seed Akane Yamaguchi of Japan in the women's singles before losing 14-21, 21-17, 17-21 in the second round.

Sindhu has thrived at every competition but has been unable to go the distance at the All England Open, with her best-ever performance (semifinal) coming in 2018. Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty, India men's doubles aces, beat the German duo of Mark Lamsfuss and Marvin Seidel.

INDIA'S WILDCARD

With two wins from three ties needed, it could be the right time to bring Verma back in the mix

GOMESH S @ Chennai

AS Ashleigh Gardner caught the skier from Poonam Yadav and the roar of 86,000 fans engulfed the Melbourne Cricket Ground on the evening of March 8, 2020, Shafali Verma, who had just turned 16, was inconsolable to the extent that the likes Radha Yadav, Harmanpeet Kaur, and Smriti Mandhana had to assuage her. The swashbuckling opener was India's leading run-scorer — 163 runs at 158.25 strike rate, the highest by anyone who had scored over 10 runs — in that T20 World Cup but couldn't deliver on the most important day.

In the two years since, Verma's career graph has been through a lot of ups and downs. When India were back on the field against South Africa, she made her presence felt in the T20Is after being left out of the ODIs. Calls for her inclusion in the 50-over format grew as she stole the limelight on her Test debut on seam-friendly conditions in England with scores of 96 & 63. However, having made her ODI debut in England, Verma has blown hot and cold, averaging 21.66 from 12 ODIs with two half-centuries. Although her numbers don't reflect consistency, the kind of impact she has had among the international teams in her short career was there for everyone to see. Established international stars spoke highly of the teenager almost every time they came up against her team.

Former India men's cricketer Ajay Ratra, who has followed the teenage sensation closely, feels that Verma has proven her ability across formats to take many by surprise. "With experience, any player grows, and she is no different. She was just 15 when she made her debut, but she always had the clarity about the strokes or the brand of attacking cricket she wanted to play. Even when the formats changed, she has improved her defence and worked on her shots as well. People didn't think that she could do well in Tests, but she has shown that she can be compact," Ratra told this daily.

With the World Cup around the corner, Verma was back in her state, honing her skills with the men's U-25 side. For Ratra, what stands out is the will to put in the hard yards.

In the New Zealand series, the 18-year-old was the senior opener in Smriti Mandhana's absence. She struggled to get going in seam-friendly conditions and ended up with just one fifty. A couple of ducks followed in the World Cup warm-ups and the opening game. Verma lost her place in the XI to the in-form Yastika Bhatia, who has done well since. That said, it might not be the end of the tournament for Verma. As every member of the team has reiterated in the press conferences, she could come back at some point in time.

India are currently placed third in the points table and need at least two wins from three matches to make it to the semifinals. Their next game is against Australia, who have steamrolled over every opponent. With short straight boundaries and batting-friendly conditions in Eden Park, Auckland, it is probably the perfect time for India to bring the swashbuckling opener back into the mix.

Former England captain and broadcaster Nasser Hussain said as much. "To beat Australia, you don't need good; you need exceptional. And Shafali can provide you with exceptional. You need above par (against Australia), and she can provide that," he commented on Wednesday.

Although it was five years ago, as history has shown, to beat Australia in the World Cup, teams need to play out of their skin. And they have become only stronger since.

Which is why, India has all the more reason to bring in Verma, who could potentially dominate the rest of the event. For she is India's wildcard brewing to make an impact.

South Africa continue unbeaten run

AGENCIES @ Hamilton

SOUTH AFRICA edged out hosts New Zealand by two wickets in a thrilling league stage match to continue their unbeaten run in the ICC Women's World Cup here on Thursday. Seamers Ayabonga Khaka (3/31), Shabnim Ismail (3/27) and Marizanne Kapp (2/44) led the way with the ball as the Proteas bowled out New Zealand for 228 despite skipper Sophie Devine's 93 at Seddon Park. Laura Wolvaardt (67) and skipper Sune Luus (51) then hit timely half centuries before Kapp (34 not out) ensured South Africa crossed the line for their fourth win of the tournament.

South Africa thus consolidated their second spot on the points table while New Zealand, who have just two wins from five outings, continued to remain fourth and will need to win their remaining two fixtures to stay in the mix. Chasing 229, openers started positively for South Africa. But they lost wickets in cluster in the middle. Kapp, however held on to one end, and took them across the line.

Brief scores: NZ 238 all out in 47.5 ovs (Devine 93; Ismail 3/27) lost to SA 229/8 in 49.3 ovs Wolvaardt 67; Amelia 3/50).

While Rawat quelled the challenge of qualifier Ishaque Eqbal 6-4, 7-5, Kadhe breezed past Dalwinder Singh 6-0, 6-3 and Sureshkumar topped qualifier Daisuke Sumizawa of Japan with a 6-3, 7-6 (3) victory.

Villarreal players celebrate their goal vs Juventus | AP

Wednesday results

In Turin: Juventus 0-3 Villarreal. Villarreal win 4-1 on aggregate

In Lille: Lille 1-2 Chelsea. Chelsea win 4-1 on aggregate

JUVE KNOCKED OUT, CHELSEA CRUISE

Spanish club Villarreal beat Italian giants Juventus 3-0 in second leg to enter the Champions League quarterfinals while holders Chelsea rally to overcome Lille. A glance at Wednesday's matches...

STING IN TALE FOR JUVENTUS

Europa League holders Villarreal stunned Juventus with three sucker punches after spending most of the match on the back foot, content to hold off the hosts' attacks which got less potent as the match wore on. Twelve minutes from time, Villarreal won a penalty when Francis Coquelin was brought down by Daniele Rugan. Substitute Gerard Moreno made no mistake from the spot. Pau Torres pushed home the second from Serge Aurier's cross in the 85th minute. Arnaut Danjuma added gloss to the result by scoring from the spot in injury time after winning a penalty.

PULISIC, AZPILICUETA SEAL DEAL FOR BLUES

Reeling from the impact of UK government sanctions imposed on their Russian billionaire owner Roman Abramovich, Chelsea appeared rattled as they fell behind in northern France to a first-half Burak Yilmaz penalty. Lille had given themselves a chance of salvaging the tie following their 2-0 defeat in the first leg at Stamford Bridge last month, but Christian Pulisic equalised on the night in first-half stoppage time and captain Cesar Azpilicueta got the winner in the 71st minute.
